 3. information allowing a proper understanding of the main differences between the underlying assumptions of the standard formula and those of any internal model used by the undertaking or branch for the calculation of its solvency capital requirement;

4. the amount of any non-compliance with the minimum capital requirement or any significant non-compliance with the solvency capital requirement during the reporting period, even if subsequently resolved, with an explanation of its origin and consequences as well as any remedial measures taken.

(3) The description in point (d) of paragraph 2 shall contain the following information:

- (a) where a matching adjustment is used pursuant to Section 40, a description of such adjustment and of the portfolio of assets and liabilities, including the assets to which the matching adjustment applies, as well as the quantification of the impact of a zero matching adjustment on the financial position of the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking or branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
- (b) where a volatility adjustment is used pursuant to Section 42, a statement confirming that a volatility adjustment has been made, and the quantification of the impact of a zero volatility adjustment on the financial position of the undertaking or branch concerned.

(4) The description referred to in point (e) of paragraph 2 shall include an analysis of any significant change as compared to the previous reporting period and an explanation of any major difference in the values of assets, technical provisions, and other liabilities in comparison with the values of these elements in financial statements, and a brief description of the transferability of own funds.

(5) The disclosure of the solvency capital requirement referred to in point 2 of paragraph 2(e) shall show separately the amount calculated according to a standard formula or according to an internal model and any capital ad-on imposed in accordance with Section 142. The impact of the specific parameters the insurance or reinsurance undertaking or branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking is required to use in accordance with Section 53 shall also be included, together with concise information on its justification by Národná banka Slovenska.

(6) Where the amount of the solvency capital requirement has not yet been verified, Národná banka Slovenska shall provide the aforementioned information later.

(7) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings and branches of foreign insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall have in place appropriate systems and processes that enable them to meet the requirements laid down in paragraphs 1 to 6 and in Sections 34 and 35(1), as well as a written contract ensuring the ongoing appropriateness of any information disclosed in accordance with paragraphs 1 to 6 and Sections 34 and 35.

(8) A report on solvency and financial condition shall be subject to approval by the management board or supervisory board of the insurance undertaking concerned, the management board of the reinsurance undertaking concerned, or by the head of the relevant branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking, and be published only after that approval.

Section 34

(1) Národná banka Slovenska shall grant prior approval to an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or to a branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking for withholding certain information in accordance with Section 33, where:

- (a) the competitors of the undertaking or branch would gain significant undue advantage from the disclosure of such information;
- (b) there are obligations to policyholders or persons insured, or other counterparty relationships binding the undertaking or branch to secrecy or confidentiality.

(2) Where Národná banka Slovenska grants prior approval to an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or to a branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking in accordance with paragraph 1, the undertaking or branch shall make a statement to this effect in its report on solvency and financial condition and shall state the reasons.

(3) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings and branches of foreign insurance and reinsurance undertakings may make use of, or refer to, public disclosures made under this Act or under other legislation of general application, to the extent that those disclosures are equivalent to the information required under Section 33 in both their nature and scope.

(4) The provisions of paragraphs 1 and 2 shall not apply to any information disclosed under Section 33(2)(e).

Section 35

(1) In the event of any adverse financial development affecting significantly the relevance of the information disclosed in accordance with Sections 33 and 34, insurance and reinsurance undertakings and branches of foreign insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall disclose appropriate information about the nature and effects of that development.

(2) For the purposes of paragraph 1, at least the following shall be regarded as adverse financial developments:

- (a) an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or a branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking fails to comply with the minimum capital requirement and Národná banka Slovenska either assumes that the undertaking or branch will not be able to submit a realistic short-term finance scheme or does not obtain such a scheme within one month of the date when non-compliance was observed;
- (b) significant non-compliance with the solvency capital requirement is observed and Národná banka Slovenska does not obtain a realistic recovery plan as defined in Section 144 within two months of the date when non-compliance was observed.

(3) In the event of an adverse development as defined in paragraph 2(a), Národná banka Slovenska shall require the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking or branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking to disclose immediately the amount of non-compliance, i.e. the difference between the amounts of eligible own funds and the minimum capital requirement, together with an explanation of its origin and consequences, including any remedial measure taken. Where, in spite of a short-term finance scheme initially considered to be realistic, non-compliance with the minimum capital requirement has not been resolved three months after its observation, it shall be disclosed by the undertaking or branch concerned at the end of that period, together with an explanation of its origin and consequences, including any remedial measures taken as well as any further remedial measures planned.

(4) In the event of an unfavourable development as defined in paragraph 2(b), Národná banka Slovenska shall require the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking or branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking to disclose immediately the amount of non-compliance, i.e. the difference between the amounts of eligible own funds and the solvency capital requirement, together with an explanation of its origin and consequences, including any remedial measure taken. Where, in spite of the recovery plan initially considered to be realistic, a significant non-compliance with the solvency capital requirement has not been resolved six months after its observation, it shall be disclosed by the undertaking or branch concerned at the end of that period, together with an explanation of its origin and consequences, including any remedial measures taken as well as any further remedial measures planned.

(5) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings and branches of foreign insurance and reinsurance undertakings may disclose, on a voluntary basis, any additional information or explanation that is not required to be disclosed in accordance with paragraph 1 or Section 33 or 34.

TITLE THREE

RULES RELATING TO TECHNICAL PROVISIONS, OWN FUNDS, CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS AND INVESTMENTS

Section 36

Valuation of assets and liabilities

(1) Unless otherwise provided by this Act, in Sections 37 to 46, or by other legislation,²⁶ insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall value assets and liabilities as follows:

- (a) assets shall be valued at the amount for which they could be exchanged between knowledgeable willing parties in an arm's length transaction;
- (b) liabilities shall be valued at the amount for which they could be transferred, or settled, between knowledgeable willing parties in an arm's length transaction.

(2) When valuing liabilities under point (b) of paragraph 1, no adjustment to take account of the own credit standing of the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall be made.

Section 37

Rules relating to technical provisions

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall establish technical provisions with respect to all of their insurance and reinsurance obligations towards policyholders and beneficiaries of insurance or reinsurance contracts.

(2) In calculating technical provisions, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall proceed in compliance with the principles set out in paragraphs 3 to 5, the provisions of Sections 38 to 44, and the relevant provisions of other legislation,²⁶ while taking into account the valuation principles set out in Section 36(1).

(3) The value of technical provisions shall correspond to the current amount an insurance or reinsurance undertaking would have to pay if it were to transfer its insurance or reinsurance obligations immediately to another insurance or reinsurance undertaking or to a branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(4) The calculation of technical provisions shall make use of and be consistent with the information provided by the financial markets and generally available data on underwriting risks (market consistency).

(5) Technical provisions shall be calculated in a prudent, reliable, and objective manner.

(6) Insurance and reinsurance undertaking shall prove to Národná banka Slovenska, upon its request, that the value of technical provisions is adequate, the methods applied are appropriate and proportionate, and that the statistical data used are correct.

Section 38

(1) The value of technical provisions shall be equal to the sum of a best estimate and a risk margin as set out in paragraphs 2 and 3.

(2) The best estimate of technical reserves shall correspond to the probability-weighted average of future cash flows, using the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure. The calculation of the best estimate shall be based upon up-to-date and credible information and realistic assumptions and be performed using adequate, applicable, and relevant actuarial and statistical methods. The cash-flow projection used in the calculation of the best estimate shall take account of all the cash inflows and outflows required to settle the insurance and reinsurance obligations over the lifetime thereof. The best estimate shall be calculated gross, without deduction of the amounts recoverable from reinsurance contracts and special purpose vehicles. Those amounts shall be calculated separately, in accordance with the provisions of Section 43.

(3) The risk margin of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall be such as to ensure that the value of technical provisions is equivalent to the amount that another insurance or reinsurance undertaking would be expected to require in order to take over and meet insurance or reinsurance obligations.

(4) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall value the best estimate and the risk margin separately. However, where future cash flows associated with insurance or reinsurance obligations can be replicated reliably using financial instruments for which a reliable market value is observable, the value of technical provisions associated with those future cash flows shall be determined on the basis of the market value of those financial instruments. In this case, separate calculations of the best estimate and the risk margin shall not be required.

(5) Where insurance and reinsurance undertakings value the best estimate and the risk margin separately, the risk margin shall be calculated by determining the cost of providing an amount of eligible own funds equal to the solvency capital requirement necessary to support insurance and reinsurance obligations over the lifetime thereof. The rate used in the determination of the cost of providing that amount of eligible own funds (Cost-of-Capital rate²⁶) shall be the same for all insurance and reinsurance undertakings and shall be reviewed periodically. The Cost-of-Capital rate used shall be equal to the additional rate, above the relevant risk-free interest rate, that an insurance or reinsurance undertaking would incur holding an amount of eligible own funds equal to the solvency capital requirement necessary to support insurance and reinsurance obligations over the lifetime of those obligations.

(6) In addition to the rules laid down in paragraphs 1 to 5, when calculating technical provisions, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall take account of the following items:

1. all expenses that will be incurred in servicing insurance and reinsurance obligations;
2. inflation, including inflation in expenses and inflation in insurance claims payable;
3. all payments to policyholders and beneficiaries, including future discretionary bonuses, which insurance and reinsurance undertakings expect to make, whether or not those payments are contractually guaranteed.

(7) When calculating technical provisions, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall also take account of the value of financial guarantees and any contractual options included in insurance and reinsurance contracts. Any assumptions made by insurance and reinsurance undertakings with respect to the likelihood that policyholders will exercise contractual options, including lapses and surrenders, shall be realistic and based on current and credible information. The assumptions shall take account, either explicitly or implicitly, of the impact that future changes in the financial and non-financial conditions may have on the exercise of those options.

(8) When calculating technical provisions, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall segment their insurance and reinsurance obligations into homogeneous risk groups, and as a minimum by lines of business, in accordance with other legislation.²⁶

(1) The term structure of risk-free interest rates as referred to in Section 38(2) shall be determined using data and information derived from the relevant financial instruments so that the structure is consistent therewith. The financial instruments taken into account shall include bonds with maturities at which the markets for such financial instruments are effective, liquid, and transparent. For maturities at which the markets for such financial instruments are not effective, liquid and transparent, the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure shall be determined through extrapolation.

(2) The extrapolated part of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure shall be based on forward rates. The extrapolated part of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure shall smoothly converge from forward rates with the longest maturities, at which the markets for the relevant financial instruments are effective, liquid and transparent, to the final forward rate.

Section 40

(1) In calculating the best estimate of life insurance or reinsurance obligations, including annuities arising from non-life insurance or reinsurance contracts, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may apply a matching adjustment to the relevant risk-free interest rate terms structure, while the application of such adjustment is subject to prior approval by Národná banka Slovenska.

(2) Prior approval as referred to in paragraph 1 shall not be issued unless the following conditions are proved to have been met:

- (a) a separate asset portfolio is in place for bonds and other assets with cash flows similar to those of bonds; this portfolio is reserved for coverage of the best estimate of insurance or reinsurance obligations during their lifetime, except when the cash flows change to such an extent that the expected cash flows between assets and liabilities need to be replicated;
- (b) the portfolio of insurance or reinsurance obligations to which a matching adjustment is applied and the associated asset portfolio are identified, administered and managed separately from the other business of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned, and that asset portfolio cannot be used for the coverage of losses arising from the other business of that undertaking;
- (c) the expected cash flows of the relevant asset portfolio precisely replicate the expected cash flows of insurance or reinsurance obligations and a possible inconsistency is not likely to lead to any significant risk, nor to an increase in existing significant risks in the insurance or reinsurance sector to which a matching adjustment is applied;
- (d) no premium payments will be required to be made in the future under insurance or reinsurance contracts from a portfolio to which a matching adjustment is applied;
- (e) the only subscription risks associated with the portfolio of insurance or reinsurance liabilities to which a matching adjustment is applied are the longevity risk, expense risk, revision risk, and the risk of death;
- (f) where the subscription risk associated with the portfolio of insurance or reinsurance obligations to which a matching adjustment is applied includes the risk of death, the best estimate of these obligations is not likely to increase by more than 5% in the event of a shock caused by a risk of death calibrated in accordance with Section 48(2) to (7);
- (g) contracts from the portfolio of insurance or reinsurance obligations to which a matching adjustment is applied contain no contractual option for the policyholder, except for the surrender right, under which the surrender value does not exceed the value of assets covering insurance or reinsurance obligations when a surrender is effected, valued in accordance with Section 36;
- (h) the cash flows of the separate asset portfolio are firmly fixed and cannot be changed by the issuers of these assets, nor by third parties;
- (i) the obligations arising from insurance or reinsurance contracts to which a matching adjustment is applied are not segmented for the purpose of calculating the best estimate.

(3) The condition set out in paragraph 2(h) shall not apply to assets whose cash-flows depend on inflation and which replicate the cash-flows of insurance or reinsurance obligations depending on inflation.

(4) Where the issuers or other third parties are entitled to change the cash-flows of assets in the separate asset portfolio and the investor receives adequate compensation for another investment in assets of the same or better credit quality to ensure the same cash-flows, the condition stipulated in paragraph 2(h) concerning the right to change the cash-flows shall not apply.

(5) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings applying a matching adjustment to the portfolio of insurance or reinsurance obligations shall not be allowed to return to an approach that uses no matching adjustment. If an insurance or reinsurance undertaking using matching adjustments is no longer able to meet the conditions set out in paragraph 2, it shall promptly inform Národná banka Slovenska and shall take measures to restore its ability to meet those conditions. If the insurance or reinsurance undertaking is unable to meet the conditions again within two months of the breach thereof under paragraph 2, it shall no longer be allowed to apply a matching adjustment to any of its insurance or reinsurance obligations. In such case, the insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall be prohibited from using a matching adjustment over the next 24 months.

(6) A matching adjustment shall not be applied to insurance and reinsurance obligations, the best estimate of which is calculated on the basis of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure, which includes a volatility adjustment as defined in Section 42 or a transitional measure for risk-free interest rates as defined in Section 203.

(1) The matching adjustment as referred to in Section 40 shall be calculated for each currency in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) the matching adjustment shall be equal to the difference between 1. the annual effective interest rate calculated as a discount rate, which, after being applied to the cash-flows of insurance or reinsurance obligations, will be equal to the value of the portfolio of reserved assets valued in accordance with Section 36; and 2. the annual effective interest rate calculated as a discount rate, which, after being applied to the cash flows of insurance or reinsurance obligations, will be equal to the value of the best estimate of insurance or reinsurance obligations, where the time value will be taken into account using basic structure of risk-free interest rates;
- (b) the matching adjustment shall not include a fundamental charge reflecting the risks left for the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned;
- (c) the fundamental spread shall be increased to such an extent that the matching adjustment applied to assets of credit quality lower than the investment grade is not higher than the matching adjustment applied to assets of investment-grade credit quality with the same duration and asset class;
- (d) the use of external rating assessments in the calculation of a matching adjustment shall be in accordance with other legislation.²⁶

(2) The fundamental spread shall be equal to the sum of:

- (a) the credit spread corresponding to the probability of default in assets; and
- (b) the credit spread corresponding to the expected loss resulting from a reduction in asset ratings.

(3) The fundamental spread for exposures to the central governments and central banks of Member States shall amount to at least 30% of the long-term average credit spread above the risk-free interest rate on assets of the same duration, credit quality, and asset class observed in the financial markets.

(4) In the case of assets other than those mentioned in paragraph 3, the fundamental spread shall amount to at least 35% of the long-term average credit spread above the risk-free interest rate with the same duration, credit quality, and asset class observed in the financial markets.

(5) The probability of default on assets as referred to in paragraph 2(a) shall be determined on the basis of long-term statistics on default, which are relevant for assets in terms of duration, credit spread, and asset class. If the credit spread cannot be derived reliably from long-term statistics, the fundamental spread shall be equal to the part of the long-term average credit spread above the risk-free interest rate determined in accordance with paragraphs 3 and (4).

Section 42

(1) In calculating the best estimate under Section 38(2), insurance and reinsurance undertakings may apply a volatility adjustment to the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure.

(2) A volatility adjustment shall be calculated for each currency on the basis of the spread between returns on assets included in the reference portfolio of the given currency and the relevant risk-free interest rate for the given currency.

(3) The reference portfolio of the given currency shall contain assets denominated in the given currency in which insurance and reinsurance undertakings invest with the aim of covering the best estimate of insurance and reinsurance obligations in the given currency.

(4) A volatility adjustment shall amount to 65% of the risk-weighted credit spread of the given currency. The risk-weighted credit spread of the currency shall be calculated as the difference between the spread referred to in paragraph 2 and the part of that spread derived from a realistic assessment of the expected or unexpected losses arising from the credit risk or other risk inherent in these assets. The volatility adjustment shall be applied only that part of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure that is not determined through extrapolation in accordance with Section 39. For the extrapolation of the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure, volatility-adjusted risk-free interest rates shall be used.

(5) If the difference between the risk-adjusted country spread and double of the risk-adjusted currency spread is positive and the risk-adjusted country spread is higher than 85 basis points, the volatility adjustment referred to in paragraph 4 for the given country shall be increased, before the application of the 65% factor, by the difference between the risk-adjusted country spread and double of the risk-adjusted currency spread. An increased volatility adjustment shall be used to calculate the best estimate of insurance and reinsurance obligations from products sold in the insurance market of the given country. The risk-corrected country spread shall be calculated in the same way as the risk-corrected currency spread of the given country, but on the basis of the reference portfolio that is characteristic of the assets in which insurance and reinsurance undertakings invest with a view to covering the best estimate of insurance and reinsurance obligations arising from products sold in the insurance market of the given country in its official currency.

(6) A volatility adjustment shall not be applied if the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure used in the calculation of the best estimate of insurance obligations includes a matching adjustment in accordance with Section 40.

(7) For currencies and countries for which no volatility adjustment is stipulated by other legislation,²⁶ the best estimate shall be calculated without a volatility adjustment.

Section 43

(1) In calculating amounts recoverable under reinsurance contracts and from special purpose vehicles, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall observe the provisions of Sections 37 and 38, as appropriate.

(2) In calculating amounts recoverable under reinsurance contracts and from with special purpose vehicles, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall take into account the time differences between the recoverable amounts and direct payments. The result of such calculation shall be adjusted to reflect the expected losses due to default by the counterparty. The adjustment shall be based on an assessment of probability of counterparty default and on the average loss arising from such default.

Section 44

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall have in place processes and procedures ensuring the suitability, completeness, and accuracy of the data used the calculation of technical provisions.

(2) If, under the conditions stipulated by other legislation,²⁶ an insurance or reinsurance undertaking has not enough data of the required quality for the application of reliable actuarial methods to a group or subgroup of its insurance and reinsurance liabilities or amounts recoverable under reinsurance contracts and from special purpose vehicles, it may use appropriate approximation methods for the calculation of the best estimate.

(3) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall have in place processes and procedures to ensure that the best estimate and the assumptions used in the calculation of the best estimate are compared with reality on a regular basis.

(4) If the comparison mentioned in paragraph 3 reveals systematic differences between the best estimate and reality, the insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall make appropriate adjustments to the actuarial methods applied or to the assumptions used.

Section 45

Own funds

(1) The own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall comprise the sum of:
(a) the basic own funds of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking; and

(b) the ancillary own funds of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(2) The basic own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall consist of the following items:

- (a) the excess of assets over liabilities, valued in accordance with Sections 36 to 44 and reduced by the amount of own shares held by the insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
- (b) subordinated liabilities.

(3) The ancillary own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall consist of items other than basic own funds which can be used to absorb losses.

(4) Ancillary own funds may comprise the following items to the extent that they are not basic own-fund items:

- (a) unpaid share capital;
- (b) letters of credit and guarantees;
- (c) any other legally binding commitments received by insurance and reinsurance undertakings.

(5) Where an ancillary own-fund item has been paid in or called up, it shall be treated as an asset and cease to form part of ancillary own-fund items.

(6) The valuation of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking's ancillary own funds and the use of an internal method for the valuation of ancillary own funds are subject to prior approval by Národná banka Slovenska in accordance with Section 77.

(7) The value of an ancillary own-fund item, which expresses the ability of that item to cover losses, shall be based on prudent and realistic assumptions. If an ancillary own-fund item has a fixed nominal value, the value of that item shall be equal to its nominal value on condition that the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned is able to use that value to cover losses.

(8) Accumulated funds shall be deemed to be accumulated profits that have not been made available for distribution to policyholders and beneficiaries.

Section 46

(1) Own-fund items shall be classified into three tiers. The classification of those items shall depend upon whether they are basic or ancillary own-fund items and the extent to which they possess the following characteristics:

- (a) the item is available, or can be called up on demand, to fully absorb losses on a going-concern basis, as well as in the case of liquidation (permanent availability);
- (b) in the case of liquidation, the total amount of the item is available to absorb losses and the repayment of the item is refused to its holder until all other obligations, including insurance and reinsurance obligations towards policyholders and beneficiaries of insurance and reinsurance contracts, have been met (subordination).

(2) When assessing the extent to which own-fund items possess the characteristics set out in paragraph 1, due consideration shall be given to the duration of the item, in particular whether the item is dated or not. Where an own-fund item is dated, the relative duration of the item as compared to the duration of the undertaking's insurance and reinsurance obligations shall be considered (sufficient duration).

(3) In addition to the features mentioned in paragraphs 1 and 2, the following shall be considered:

- (a) whether the item is free from requirements or incentives to redeem its nominal value;
- (b) whether the item is free from mandatory fixed charges;
- (c) whether the item is clear of encumbrances.

(4) Basic own-fund items shall be classified in Tier 1 where they substantially possess the characteristics set out in paragraph 1(a) and (b), taking into consideration the features set out in paragraphs 2 and 3.

(5) Basic own-fund items shall be classified in Tier 2 where they substantially possess the characteristic set out in paragraph 1(b), taking into consideration the features set out in paragraphs 2 and 3. Ancillary own-fund items shall be classified in Tier 2 where they substantially possess the characteristics set out in paragraph 1, taking into consideration the features set out in paragraphs 2 and 3.

(6) Any basic and ancillary own-fund items that do not fall under paragraphs 1 and 2 shall be classified in Tier 3.

(7) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall classify their own-fund items on the basis of the criteria set out in paragraphs 4 to 6 under other legislation.²⁶ Where an own-fund item is not included in the list of own-fund items, it shall be assessed and classified by the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking with the prior approval by Národná banka Slovenska.

(8) Letters of credit and guarantees which are held in trust for the benefit of insurance or reinsurance creditors by an independent trustee and are provided by domestic or foreign banks established in a Member State shall be classified in Tier 2.

Section 47

(1) As far as compliance with the solvency capital requirement is concerned, the eligible amounts of Tier 2 and Tier 3 items shall be subject to quantitative limits. Those limits shall be such as to ensure that at least the following conditions are met:

- (a) the share of Tier 1 items in the eligible own funds is higher than one-third of the total amount of eligible own funds;
- (b) the eligible amount of Tier 3 items is less than one-third of the total amount of eligible own funds.

(2) As far as compliance with the minimum capital requirement is concerned, the amount of basic own-fund items eligible to cover the minimum capital requirement which are classified in Tier 2 shall be subject to quantitative limits. Those limits shall be such as to ensure, as a minimum, that the share of Tier 1 items in the eligible basic own funds is higher than one-half of the total amount of eligible basic own funds.

(3) The eligible amount of own funds to cover the solvency capital requirement set out in Section 48(1) shall be equal to the sum of the amount of Tier 1, the eligible amount of Tier 2, and the eligible amount of Tier 3.

(4) The eligible amount of basic own funds to cover the minimum capital requirement set out in Section 63(1) shall be equal to the sum of the amount of Tier 1 and the eligible amount of basic own-fund items classified in Tier 2.

Solvency capital requirement

Section 48

General provisions

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall hold eligible own funds covering the solvency capital requirement. The solvency capital requirement shall be calculated in accordance with paragraphs 2 to 7, using either an internal model or the standard formula.

(2) The solvency capital requirement shall be calculated on the presumption that the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking will conduct its business as a going concern.

(3) The solvency capital requirement shall be calibrated so as to ensure that all quantifiable risks to which an insurance or reinsurance undertaking is exposed are taken into account. It shall not cover the risk of loss of basic own funds resulting from changes in volatility adjustments pursuant to Section 42. The solvency capital requirement shall be calculated on the basis of the actual risk exposures and the expected liabilities arising from insurance contracts taken over in the next 12 months. With respect to existing risk exposures, the solvency capital requirement shall cover only unexpected losses.

(4) The solvency capital requirement shall correspond to the Value-at-Risk of the basic own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to a confidence level of 99.5% over a one-year period.

(5) The solvency capital requirement shall cover at least the following risks:

- (a) non-life underwriting risk;
- (a) life underwriting risk;
- (c) health underwriting risk;
- (d) market risk;
- (e) credit risk;
- (f) operational risk.

(6) Operational risk shall include legal risks, and exclude risks arising from strategic decisions, as well as reputation risks.

(7) When calculating the solvency capital requirement, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall take account of the effect of risk-mitigation techniques, provided that credit risk and other risks arising from the use of such techniques are properly reflected in the solvency capital requirement.

(8) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall calculate the solvency capital requirement at least once a year and report the result of that calculation to Národná banka Slovenska. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall hold eligible own funds covering the last reported solvency capital requirement. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall monitor the amount of eligible own funds and the solvency capital requirement on an ongoing basis.

(9) If the risk profile of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking deviates significantly from the assumptions underlying the last reported solvency capital requirement, the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned shall recalculate the solvency capital requirement without delay and report it to Národná banka Slovenska.

(10) Where there is evidence to suggest that the risk profile of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking has altered significantly since the date on which the solvency capital requirement was last reported, Národná banka Slovenska may require the undertaking concerned to recalculate the solvency capital requirement.

Section 49

The standard formula

(1) The solvency capital requirement calculated on the basis of the standard formula shall be the sum of the following items:

- (a) the basic solvency capital requirement;
- (b) the capital requirement for operational risk;
- (c) the adjustment for the loss-absorbing capacity of technical provisions and deferred taxes.

(2) The basic solvency capital requirement shall consist of at least the following risk modules:

- (a) non-life underwriting risk;
- (b) life underwriting risk;
- (c) health underwriting risk;
- (d) market risk;
- (e) counterparty default risk.

(3) For the purposes of points (a), (b) and (c) of paragraph 1, insurance or reinsurance operations shall be allocated to the underwriting risk module that best reflects the technical nature of the underlying risks.

(4) The overall solvency capital requirement shall be determined in accordance with the principles set out in Section 48(2) to (7).

(5) Each of the risk modules referred to in paragraph 2 shall be calibrated in accordance with Section 48(4). Where appropriate, diversification effects shall also be taken into account in the design of each risk module.

(6) The same design and specifications for the risk modules shall be used for all insurance and reinsurance undertakings, both with respect to the basic solvency capital requirement and to any simplified calculations as laid down in Section 52.

(7) With regard to risks arising from catastrophes, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may, where appropriate, use specifications differentiated by the geographic location of the risk for the calculation of risk modules referred to in paragraph 2(a) to (c).

(8) With the prior approval of Národná banka Slovenska, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may, within the design of the standard formula, replace a subset of its parameters by parameters specific to the undertaking concerned when calculating the risk modules referred to in paragraph 2(a) to (c).

(9) The parameters referred to in paragraph 8 shall be calibrated on the basis of the internal data of the undertaking concerned, or of the data that are directly relevant for the operations of that undertaking using standardised methods. The data used shall be complete, accurate, and proportionate to the undertaking's scope of business.

(10) In a decree published in the Collection of Laws, Národná banka Slovenska shall establish:

- (a) a method for calculating the basic solvency capital requirement;
- (b) definitions for the individual modules and sub-modules of the basic solvency capital requirement;
- (c) a symmetric adjustment mechanism for the equity risk sub-module.

Section 50

(1) The capital requirement for operational risk shall reflect operational risks to the extent they are not already reflected in the risk modules referred to in Section 49, and shall be calibrated in accordance with Section 48(3) and (4).

(2) With respect to life insurance contracts where the investment risk is borne by the policyholders, the calculation of the capital requirement for operational risk shall take account of the amount of annual expenses incurred in respect of those insurance obligations.

(3) In the case of insurance and reinsurance contracts other than those referred to in paragraph 2, the calculation of the capital requirement for operational risk shall take account of the volume of operations, in terms of earned premiums and technical provisions which are held in respect of the relevant insurance and reinsurance obligations. The capital requirement for operational risk shall not exceed 30% of the basic solvency capital requirement relating to those insurance and reinsurance contracts.

(1) The adjustment for the loss-absorbing capacity of technical provisions and deferred taxes shall reflect potential compensation of unexpected losses through a simultaneous decrease in technical provisions or deferred taxes or a combination of the two.

(2) The adjustment referred to in paragraph 1 shall take account of the risk mitigating effect provided by future discretionary benefits of insurance contracts, to the extent insurance and reinsurance undertakings can establish that a reduction in such benefits may be used to cover unexpected losses when they arise. The risk mitigating effect provided by future discretionary benefits shall be no higher than the sum of deferred taxes and technical provisions relating to those future discretionary benefits.

(3) For the purposes of paragraph 2, the value of future discretionary benefits under adverse circumstances shall be compared to the value of such benefits under the underlying assumptions of the best-estimate calculation.

Section 52

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may use a simplified calculation for a specific sub-module or risk module where the nature, scale and complexity of the risks they face justifies it and where it would be disproportionate to require all insurance and reinsurance undertakings to apply the standardised calculation.

(2) Simplified calculations shall be calibrated in accordance with Section 48(3) and (4).

Section 53

Where the risk profile of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking deviates significantly from the assumptions underlying the standard formula calculation, Národná banka Slovenska may, by means of a decision stating the reasons, require the undertaking concerned to replace a subset of the parameters used in the standard formula calculation by parameters specific to that undertaking in accordance with Section 49(9) when calculating the risk modules set out in Section 49(2)(a) to (c). Those specific parameters shall be calculated in such a way to ensure that the undertaking complies with Section 48(3) and (4).

Section 54

Internal models

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may calculate the solvency capital requirement using a full or partial internal model. The use of an internal model is subject to prior approval by Národná banka Slovenska in accordance with Section 77, unless otherwise provided by Section 97 of this Act or other legislation.²⁶

(2) The management board of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking using an internal model shall be responsible for having an appropriate system in place to ensure the proper functioning of the internal model.

(3) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may use partial internal models for the calculation of one or more of the following:

- (a) one or more risk modules, or sub-modules, of the basic solvency capital requirement;
- (b) the capital requirement for operational risk;
- (c) the adjustment for the loss-absorbing capacity of technical provisions and deferred taxes.

(4) In addition, partial modelling may be applied to the whole business of insurance and reinsurance undertakings, or only to one or more major business units.

(5) In any application for approval, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall submit, as a minimum, documentary evidence that the internal model fulfils the requirements set out in Sections 57 to 61. Where the application for that approval relates to a partial internal model, the requirements set out in Sections 57 to 61 shall be adapted to take account of the limited scope of the application of that internal model.

(6) Národná banka Slovenska shall decide in respect of an application as referred to in paragraph 1 within six months from the receipt of the complete application.

(7) Národná banka Slovenska shall give approval to the application referred to in paragraph 1 only if it is satisfied that the systems of the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking for identifying, measuring, monitoring, managing and reporting risk are adequate and, in particular, that the internal model fulfils the requirements laid down in Sections 57 to 61.

(8) After having received approval from Národná banka Slovenska to use an internal model, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may, by means of a decision stating the reasons, be required to provide Národná banka Slovenska with an estimate of the solvency capital requirement determined in accordance with the standard formula.

(9) In the case of a partial internal model, Národná banka Slovenska shall grant approval only where the model fulfils the requirements set out in paragraph 7 and the following additional conditions:

- (a) the reason for the limited scope of application of the model is properly justified by the undertaking;
- (b) the resulting solvency capital requirement reflects more appropriately the risk profile of the undertaking and in particular complies with the principles set out in Section 48;
- (c) the design is consistent with the principles set out in Section 48 so as to allow the partial internal model to be fully integrated into the standard formula of the solvency capital requirement.

(10) When assessing an application for the use of a partial internal model, Národná banka Slovenska may require the insurance and reinsurance undertakings concerned to submit a realistic transitional plan to extend the scope of the model.

(11) The transitional plan referred to in paragraph 10 shall set out the manner in which the relevant insurance or reinsurance undertaking plans to extend the scope of the model to other sub-modules or business units, in order to ensure that the model covers a predominant part of its insurance operations with respect to that specific risk module.

Section 55

(1) As part of the initial approval process of an internal model, Národná banka Slovenska shall approve the insurance or reinsurance undertaking's contract for changing the model. Insurance or reinsurance undertaking may change their internal model only in accordance with that contract.

(2) The written contract shall include a specification of minor and major changes made to the internal model. Major changes to the internal model, as well as changes to that contract, shall always be subject to prior approval by Národná banka Slovenska.

(3) The management board of insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall approve the undertaking's application to Národná banka Slovenska for approval of an internal model, as well as the application for approval of any subsequent major changes made to that model.

(4) After having received approval for the use of an internal model, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall not revert to calculating the whole or any part of the solvency capital requirement in accordance with the standard formula, except in duly justified cases and subject to the approval of Národná banka Slovenska.

(5) A justified case as referred to in paragraph 4 shall be understood to mean a case where the standard formula is more suitable for the calculation of the solvency capital requirement than an approved internal model in view of the risk profile of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned.

Section 56

If, after having received approval from Národná banka Slovenska to use an internal model, insurance and reinsurance undertakings cease to comply with the requirements set out in Sections 57 to 61, they shall, without delay, either present to Národná banka Slovenska a plan to restore compliance within a reasonable period of time, or prove that the effect of non-compliance with those requirements is immaterial.

Section 57

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall prove that their internal model is widely used and plays an important role in their system of governance, in particular:

- (a) their risk management system and their decision-making processes;
- (b) their economic and solvency capital assessment and allocation processes, including the assessment referred to in Section 26.

(2) In addition, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall prove that the frequency of calculation of the solvency capital requirement using an internal model is consistent with the frequency with which they use their internal model for the purposes covered by paragraph 1.

(3) The management board shall be responsible for ensuring the ongoing appropriateness of the design and operations of the internal model, and that the internal model continues to appropriately reflect the risk profile of the insurance and reinsurance undertakings concerned.

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall ensure that the internal model, and in particular the calculation of the probability distribution forecast underlying it, comply with the criteria set out in paragraphs 2 to 9.

(2) The methods used to calculate the probability distribution forecast shall be based on adequate, applicable and relevant actuarial and statistical techniques and shall be consistent with the methods used to calculate technical provisions. The methods used to calculate the probability distribution forecast shall be based on current and credible information and realistic assumptions. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall be able to justify the assumptions underlying their internal model to Národná banka Slovenska.

(3) Data used for the internal model shall be accurate, complete, and proportionate to the scope of operations. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall update the data sets used in the calculation of the probability distribution forecast at least annually.

(4) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may choose a method for the calculation of the probability distribution forecast. Regardless of the calculation method chosen, the ability of the internal model to rank risks shall be sufficient to ensure that it is widely used and plays an important role in the system of governance of insurance and reinsurance undertakings, in particular their risk management system and decision-making processes, and capital allocation. The internal model shall cover all of the material risks to which insurance and reinsurance undertakings are exposed, at least the risks set out in Section 48(5).

(5) In regard to the diversification effects, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may take account in their internal model of dependencies within and across risk categories, provided that Národná banka Slovenska is satisfied that the system used for measuring those diversification effects is adequate.

(6) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may take full account of the effect of risk-mitigation techniques in their internal model, as long as credit risk and other risks arising from the use of risk-mitigation techniques are properly reflected in the internal model.

(7) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall accurately assess the particular risks associated with financial guarantees and any contractual options in their internal model, where material. For that purpose, they shall take account of the impact that future changes in financial and non-financial conditions may have on the exercise of those options.

(8) In their internal model, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall take account of all payments to policyholders and beneficiaries which they expect to make, whether or not those payments are contractually guaranteed.

(9) In their internal model, insurance and reinsurance undertakings may take account of future management actions that they would reasonably expect to carry out in specific circumstances, as well as of the time needed for their implementation.

Section 59

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings may use a different time period or risk measure than that set out in Section 48(3) and (4) for internal modelling purposes as long as the outputs of the internal model can be used by those undertakings to calculate the solvency capital requirement in a manner that provides policyholders and beneficiaries with a level of protection equivalent to or higher than that provided for in Section 48.

(2) Where practicable, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall derive the solvency capital requirement directly from the probability distribution forecast generated by the internal model of those undertakings, using the Value-at-Risk measure set out in Section 48(3) and (4).

(3) Where insurance and reinsurance undertakings cannot derive the solvency capital requirement directly from the probability distribution forecast generated by the internal model, Národná banka Slovenska may allow approximations to be used in the process to calculate the solvency capital requirement, as long as those undertakings can prove to Národná banka Slovenska that policyholders are provided with a level of protection equivalent to or higher than that provided for in Section 48.

(4) Národná banka Slovenska may require insurance and reinsurance undertakings to run their internal model on relevant benchmark portfolios, using assumptions based on external rather than internal data, in order to verify the calibration of the internal model and to check that its specification is in line with generally accepted market practice.

Section 60

Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall review, at least annually, the causes and sources of profits and losses for each major business unit. They shall prove how the categorisation of the risk chosen in the internal model explains the causes and sources of profits and losses, and reflects the risk profile of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned.

Section 61

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall have a regular cycle of model validation which includes:

- (a) monitoring the performance of the internal model, reviewing the ongoing appropriateness of its specification, and testing its results against experience;
- (b) an effective statistical process for validating the internal model which enables the undertaking to prove to Národná banka Slovenska that the resulting capital requirements are appropriate;

- (c) an analysis of the stability of the internal model and in particular the testing of the sensitivity of the results of that model to changes in the key underlying assumptions;
- (d) an assessment of the accuracy, completeness, and appropriateness of the data used by the internal model.

(2) The statistical methods applied shall test the appropriateness of the probability distribution forecast compared not only to loss experience but also to all new material data and information relating thereto.

(3) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall document the structure and operational details of their internal model. The documentation shall prove compliance with the requirements laid down in paragraphs 1 and 2 and in Sections 57 to 60.

(4) The documentation shall provide a detailed outline of the theory, assumptions, and mathematical and empirical bases underlying the internal model. The documentation shall indicate any circumstances under which the internal model does not work effectively. Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall document all major changes to their internal model, as set out in Section 55.

Section 62

The use of a model or data obtained from a third party shall not be considered to be a justification for exemption from any of the requirements for the internal model set out in Sections 57 to 61.

Minimum capital requirement

Section 63

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall hold eligible basic own funds to cover the minimum capital requirement.

(2) The minimum capital requirement shall be calculated in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) it shall be calculated in a clear and simple manner, and in such a way as to ensure that the calculation can be audited;
- (b) it shall correspond to an amount of eligible basic own funds below which policyholders and beneficiaries would be exposed to an unacceptable level of risk if insurance and reinsurance undertakings were allowed to continue their operations;
- (c) the linear function referred to in paragraph 4 used to calculate the minimum capital requirement shall be calibrated to the Value-at-Risk of the basic own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to a confidence level of 85% over a one-year period.

(3) The absolute floor of the minimum capital requirement for insurance and reinsurance undertakings, and branches of foreign insurance and reinsurance undertakings, shall be set by Národná banka Slovenska in a decree published in the Collection of Laws.

(4) The minimum capital requirement shall be calculated as a linear function of a set or subset of the following variables, measured net of reinsurance:

- (a) the undertaking's technical provisions;
- (b) written premiums;
- (c) capital-at-risk;
- (d) deferred taxes; and
- (e) administrative expenses.

(5) If an insurance or reinsurance undertaking's minimum capital requirement calculated in accordance with paragraph 4 is lower than 25% of the undertaking's solvency capital requirement, the minimum capital requirement shall be set at 25% of the solvency capital requirement, including any capital add-on imposed in accordance with Section 142. If the minimum capital requirement calculated in accordance with paragraph 4 is higher than 45% of the undertaking's solvency capital requirement, the minimum capital requirement shall be set at 45% of the solvency capital requirement, including any capital add-on imposed in accordance with Section 142.

(6) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall calculate the minimum capital requirement at least quarterly and report the results of that calculation to Národná banka Slovenska. For the purpose of setting the limits referred to paragraph 5, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall not be required to calculate the solvency capital requirement on a quarterly basis.

(7) Where the minimum capital requirement of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking is determined in accordance with paragraph 5, the undertaking shall provide to Národná banka Slovenska information allowing a proper understanding of the reasons therefor.

Investments

Section 64

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall invest all their assets in accordance with the 'prudent person' principle, as specified in paragraphs 2 to 9.

(2) With respect to the whole portfolio of assets, insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall only invest in assets and instruments whose risks the undertaking concerned can properly identify, measure, monitor, manage, control and report, and appropriately take into account in the assessment of its overall solvency needs in accordance with Section 26.

(3) All assets, in particular those covering the minimum capital requirement and the solvency capital requirement, shall be invested in such a manner as to ensure the security, quality, liquidity and profitability of the portfolio as a whole. The localisation of those assets shall be such as to ensure their availability.

(4) Assets held to cover the technical provisions shall be invested in a manner appropriate to the nature and duration of the insurance and reinsurance liabilities. Such assets shall be invested in the best interest of all policyholders and beneficiaries taking into account any disclosed contract objective, in particular the profile and priorities of the insurance undertaking's investment strategy, including a specification of the securities and money market instruments that are to be acquired from the technical provisions, as well as any sectoral or territorial classification of the investments and risk-spreading principles.

(5) In the case of a conflict of interests, insurance undertakings, or the entity that manages their asset portfolio, shall ensure that the investment is made in the best interest of policyholders and beneficiaries.

(6) Where the benefits provided under a contract are directly linked to the value of units in mutual funds, or to the value of securities held by foreign collective investment undertakings, or to the value of transferable securities, or to the value of assets managed in an insurance undertaking's internal fund, usually divided into units, the technical provisions in respect of those benefits must be represented as closely as possible by those units or, in the case where units are not established, by those assets. For the purposes of this Act, 'the internal fund of an insurance undertaking' means the undertaking's asset portfolio earmarked for the coverage of life insurance obligations for a certain group of contracts. If an insurance undertaking maintains an internal fund, it shall draw up statutes for that fund, as an integral part of the insurance contract. The statutes of an undertaking's internal fund shall contain in particular the investment contract objectives in respect of the assets held in the fund, mainly the types of securities and money market instruments to be acquired, as well as the sectoral or territorial classification of investments and rules for risk mitigation and diversification.

(7) Where the benefits provided under a contract are directly linked to a share index or some other reference value other than those referred to in paragraph 6, the technical provisions in respect of those benefits must be represented as closely as possible either by the units deemed to represent the reference value or, in the case where units are not established, by assets of appropriate security and marketability which correspond as closely as possible to those on which the particular reference value is based.

(8) Where the benefits referred to in paragraphs 6 and 7 include financial guarantees or other guaranteed benefits, the assets held to cover the corresponding additional technical provisions are subject to paragraph 9.

(9) With respect to assets other than those covered by paragraphs 6 and 7, the following principles apply:

- (a) the use of derivative instruments shall be possible insofar as they contribute to a reduction of risks or facilitate efficient portfolio management;
- (b) investment in assets that are not admitted to trading on a regulated financial market shall be restricted to prudent levels;
- (c) assets shall be properly diversified in such a way as to avoid excessive reliance on any particular asset, issuer or group of undertakings, or geographical area and excessive risk concentration in the portfolio as a whole;
- (d) investment in assets issued by the same issuer, or by issuers belonging to the same group, shall not expose the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned to excessive risk concentration.

Section 64a

(1) Insurance undertakings conducting life insurance business and reinsurance undertakings conducting business related to life insurance liabilities shall establish and comply with an engagement policy for engagement in the exercise of shareholder rights pursuant to another act.^{26a} This is without prejudice to the conflict of interest provisions under Sections 23, 31 and 64(5) of this Act.

(2) Where an asset manager as defined in another act^{26b} implements the engagement policy, including voting, on behalf of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking under paragraph 1 for which it provides portfolio management services, that insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall make a reference as to where such voting information has been published by the asset manager.

- b) how the arrangement incentivises the asset manager to make investment decisions based on assessments about medium to long-term financial and non-financial performance of the investee joint-stock company and to engage with investee joint-stock companies in order to improve their performance in the medium to long-term;
- c) how the method and time horizon of the evaluation of the asset manager's performance and the remuneration for asset management services are in line with the profile and duration of the liabilities of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking under paragraph 1, in particular long-term liabilities, and take absolute long-term performance into account;
- d) how the insurance or reinsurance undertaking under paragraph 1 monitors portfolio turnover costs incurred by the asset manager and how it defines and monitors a targeted portfolio turnover or turnover range;
- e) the duration of the arrangement with the asset manager.

(5) Where the arrangement with the asset manager does not contain one or more of the elements mentioned in paragraph 4, the insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall give a clear and reasoned explanation of why this is the case.

(3) Before carrying out an on-site inspection at the premises of a service provider established in another Member State, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the competent supervisory authority of that Member State. Národná banka Slovenska may delegate such on-site inspection to the supervisory authority of the Member State in which the service provider has its registered office.

(4) If Národná banka Slovenska cannot carry out an on-site inspection in the territory of another Member State pursuant to paragraph 3, Národná banka Slovenska may delegate the matter to the European supervisory authority and request assistance under other legislation.²²

(4) Where the same provisions apply to a mixed financial holding company under Sections 81 to 123 and under Sections 124 to 138, regarding the supervision of risk concentration in particular, Národná banka Slovenska in its capacity as group supervisor may, after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned, apply only the relevant provisions of Sections 124 to 138 in relation to that mixed financial holding company.

(5) Where the same provisions apply to a mixed financial holding company under this Act and under other legislation,⁵ regarding the supervision of risk concentration in particular, Národná banka Slovenska in its capacity as group supervisor may, in agreement with the authority exercising consolidated supervision in the banking and investment services sectors, apply only those provisions of this Act that apply to the most significant sector pursuant to Sections 124 to 138.

(6) In its capacity of group supervisor, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the European Banking Authority and the European supervisory authority of the decisions taken in accordance with paragraphs 4 and 5.

(2) In its capacity as group supervisor, Národná banka Slovenska may decide not to include an undertaking in group supervision where:

- (a) the undertaking has its registered office in a non-Member State where there are legal impediments to the transfer of information for the purposes of group supervision;
- (b) the undertaking which should be included is of negligible interest with respect to the objectives of group supervision; or
- (c) the inclusion of the undertaking would be inappropriate or misleading with respect to the objectives of group supervision.

(3) Where several undertakings of the same group, taken individually, may be excluded pursuant to paragraph 2(b), they must nevertheless be included where, collectively, they are of non-negligible interest.

(4) Where Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor is of the opinion that an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State, or third-country insurance or reinsurance undertaking should not be included in group supervision pursuant to paragraph 2(b) or (c), it shall consult the other supervisory authorities concerned before taking a decision.

(5) Where the group supervisor does not include an insurance or reinsurance undertakings in group supervision, Národná banka Slovenska may ask the undertaking which is at the head of the group for any information which may facilitate the supervision of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned.

Section 84

(1) Where a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State, an insurance holding company, or a mixed financial holding company is not a subsidiary undertaking of another insurance or reinsurance undertaking, insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State, or of insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company which has its registered office in a Member State, it shall be considered as an ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level.

(2) The provisions of Section 87 to 119 apply only to participating insurance undertakings, participating reinsurance undertakings, insurance holding companies, and mixed financial holding companies that are ultimate parent undertakings at the European Union level.

(3) Where an ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level is a subsidiary undertaking of an undertaking that is subject to supplementary supervision under Sections 124 to 138, the group supervisor may, after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned, decide not to carry out at the level of that ultimate parent undertaking the supervision of risk concentration referred to in Section 106, the supervision of intra-group transactions referred to in Section 107, or both.

Section 85

(1) An ultimate parent undertaking at national level shall be a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, an insurance holding company, or a mixed financial holding company with a registered office in the Slovak Republic, whose parent undertaking has its registered office in another Member State. If the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level referred to in Section 84 of a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, insurance holding company, or of a mixed financial holding company has its registered office in another Member State, Národná banka Slovenska may, after consulting the group supervisor and the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level, decide to apply mutatis mutandis Sections 87 to 119 to the ultimate parent undertaking at national level. Národná banka Slovenska shall explain its decision to both the group supervisor and the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level.

(2) If Národná banka Slovenska performs the functions of a group supervisor and the competent supervisory authority of another Member State notifies Národná banka Slovenska of its decision to exercise group supervision over an ultimate parent undertaking at national level, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the college of supervisory authorities.

(3) In exercising group supervision at national level, Národná banka Slovenska may decide not to apply the provisions of Sections 87 to 104, Sections 105 to 107, or Section 108.

(4) Where Národná banka Slovenska decides to apply to an ultimate parent undertaking at national level the provisions of Sections 87 to 105, the choice of method made in accordance with Section 88 by the group supervisor in respect of the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level referred to in Section 84 shall be recognised as determinative and applied by Národná banka Slovenska.

(5) Where Národná banka Slovenska decides to apply to an ultimate parent undertaking at national level the provisions of Sections 87 to 105, and where the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level referred to in Section 84 has obtained, in accordance with Section 97 or Section 99(5), permission to calculate the group solvency capital requirement, as well as the solvency capital requirement of insurance and reinsurance undertakings in the group, on the basis of an internal model, that decision shall be recognised as determinative and applied by Národná banka Slovenska.

(6) Where Národná banka Slovenska considers that the risk profile of an ultimate parent undertaking at national level deviates significantly from the internal model approved at the European Union level, and as long as that undertaking fails to prove the contrary, Národná banka Slovenska may decide to impose a capital add-on to the group solvency capital requirement of that undertaking at national level or, in exceptional circumstances where such capital add-on would not be appropriate, to require that undertaking to calculate its group solvency capital requirement on the basis of the standard formula. Národná banka Slovenska shall explain such decisions to both the undertaking and the group supervisor.

(7) Where Národná banka Slovenska performs the functions of a group supervisor and the competent supervisory authority of another Member State informs Národná banka Slovenska of its decision to impose a capital add-on to the group solvency capital requirement at national level or to calculate the group solvency capital requirement on the basis of the standard formula, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the college of supervisors.

(8) Where Národná banka Slovenska decides to apply the provisions of Sections 87 to 105 to the ultimate parent undertaking at national level, that undertaking shall not be permitted to submit, in accordance with Sections 101 to 105, an application for permission to subject any of its subsidiaries to Sections 103 and 104.

(9) Národná banka Slovenska may not take or uphold a decision as referred to in paragraph 1 where the ultimate parent undertaking at national level is a subsidiary of the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level referred to in Section 84 and the latter has obtained in accordance with Section 102 or 105 permission for that subsidiary to be subject to Sections 103 and 104.

Section 86

(1) Národná banka Slovenska may conclude an agreement with the supervisory authorities of other Member States where another related ultimate parent undertaking at national level is present, with a view to exercising group supervision at the level of a subgroup covering several Member States. Národná banka Slovenska and the relevant supervisory authorities shall give an explanation for such agreement to both the group supervisor and the ultimate parent undertaking at the European Union level.

(2) Where Národná banka Slovenska performs the functions of a group supervisor and the relevant supervisory of other Member States inform Národná banka Slovenska of their decision to conclude an agreement on group supervision at the level of a subgroup covering several Member States, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the college of supervisors.

(3) Where Národná banka Slovenska has concluded an agreement as referred to in paragraph 1, group supervision shall not be carried out only at the level of any ultimate parent undertaking present in Member States other than the Member State in which the subgroup referred to in paragraph 1 is located. The provisions of Section 85(3) to (8) apply mutatis mutandis.

Group solvency

Section 87

(1) Supervision of group solvency shall be exercised in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 and Section 108 to 119.

(2) Where Národná banka Slovenska exercises supervision under Section 82(2)(a), the participating insurance or reinsurance undertakings shall ensure that eligible own funds are available in the group which are always at least equal to the group solvency capital requirement as calculated in accordance with Sections 88 to 99.

(3) Where Národná banka Slovenska exercises supervision under Section 82(2)(b), the insurance and reinsurance undertakings forming a group shall ensure that eligible own funds are available in the group which are always at least equal to the group solvency capital requirement as calculated in accordance with Section 100.

(4) When exercising group supervision, Národná banka Slovenska and the participating insurance or reinsurance undertakings shall proceed in accordance with Section 23(10) and Section 144, as appropriate.

(5) As soon as a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking has observed that the group solvency capital requirement is no longer complied with or that there is a risk of non-compliance in the following three months and reported this fact to Národná banka Slovenska acting as a group supervisor under Section 109, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the other supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors, which shall analyse the situation of the group.

(6) The calculations referred to in paragraphs 2 and 3 shall be carried out at least annually, by the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, the insurance holding company, or by the mixed financial holding company. The relevant data for and the results of those calculations shall be submitted to the group supervisor by the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking or, where the group is not headed by an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, by the insurance holding company, the mixed financial holding company, or by an undertaking selected from the group by the group supervisor after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned and the group itself.

(7) The participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, the insurance holding company, and the mixed financial holding company shall monitor the group solvency capital requirement on an ongoing basis. Where the risk profile of the group deviates significantly from the assumptions underlying the last reported group solvency capital requirement, the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, the insurance holding company or the mixed financial holding company shall recalculate the group solvency capital requirement and report it to the group supervisor without undue delay. Where there is evidence to suggest that the risk profile of the group has altered significantly since the date on which the group solvency capital requirement was last reported, Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor may require a recalculation of the group solvency capital requirement.

(1) The solvency of insurance and reinsurance undertakings forming part of a group as referred to in Section 82(2)(a) shall be calculated at group level in accordance with the technical principles and one of the methods set out in Sections 89 to 99.

(2) The participating insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall calculate the solvency of the group according to the accounting consolidation-based method, which is laid down in Sections 96 to 98. Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor may, after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned and the group of insurance and reinsurance undertakings itself, apply to that group the deduction and aggregation method referred to in Section 99, or a combination of the two methods, where the exclusive application of the accounting consolidation-based method would not be appropriate.

Section 89

(1) The calculation of solvency at group level shall take account of the proportional share held by the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking in its related undertakings. The proportional share shall comprise either of the following:

- (a) where the accounting consolidation-based method is used, the percentages used for the establishment of the consolidated accounts; or
- (b) where the deduction and aggregation method is used, the proportion of the subscribed capital that is held, directly or indirectly, by the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(2) However, regardless of the method used, where the related undertaking is a subsidiary undertaking and does not have sufficient eligible own funds to cover its solvency capital requirement, the total solvency deficit of the subsidiary shall be taken into account.

(3) Where, in the opinion of the supervisory authorities, the responsibility of the parent undertaking owning a share of the capital is strictly limited to that share of the capital, Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor may allow for the solvency deficit of the subsidiary undertaking referred to in paragraph 2 to be taken into account on a proportional basis.

(4) In its capacity as group supervisor, Národná banka Slovenska shall determine, after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned and the insurance or reinsurance undertakings forming part of a group, the proportional share which shall be taken into account in the following cases:

- (a) where there are no capital ties between some of the undertakings in the group;
- (b) where a holding of at least 20%, directly or indirectly, of voting rights or capital in an undertaking of the group qualifies as participation because a significant influence is effectively exercised over that undertaking;
- (c) where an undertaking is a parent undertaking of another undertaking because it effectively exercises a dominant influence over that undertaking.

Section 90

(1) Where a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking has more than one related insurance or reinsurance undertaking, related insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State, or related third-country insurance or reinsurance undertaking, each of those related insurance or reinsurance undertakings shall be included in the group solvency calculation.

(2) Where a related undertaking as referred to in paragraph 1 has its registered office in another Member State, the group solvency calculation must take into account the method by which the solvency capital requirement and eligible own funds of such undertakings are calculated under the law of that Member State.

(3) Where a related undertaking as referred to in paragraph 1 has its registered office in a country that is not a Member State, the group solvency calculation under Section 99 must take into account the method by which the solvency capital requirement and eligible own funds of such undertakings are calculated under this Act.

(4) Where a related undertaking as referred to in paragraph 3 has its registered office in a country that is not a Member State whose solvency regime is at least equivalent to that laid down in Sections 36 to 64, the group solvency calculation under Section 99 must take into account the method by which the solvency capital requirement and eligible own funds of such undertakings are calculated under the law of that country.

(5) Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor shall verify, at the request of a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking or on its own initiative, whether the solvency regime of a third-country is equivalent to that laid down in Sections 36 to 64. Národná banka Slovenska shall cooperate with the European supervisory authority and consult the other supervisory authorities concerned before taking a decision on equivalence. Národná banka Slovenska shall not take, in relation to a country that is not a Member State, any decision that would contradict a previous decision taken in relation to that country, except for a decision to take into account significant changes in the solvency regime laid down in Sections 36 to 64 and in the supervision regime of that country.

(6) Where the group supervisor takes a decision on equivalence of the solvency regime in a country that is not a Member State but Národná banka Slovenska disagrees to that decision, it may forward the matter to the European supervisory authority and request assistance under other legislation²² within three months after that decision was reported.

(7) Where the Commission takes a decision regarding the equivalence or temporary equivalence of the solvency regime in a country that is not a Member State, paragraph 5 shall not apply.

Section 91

(1) For the purposes of group solvency calculation, the double use of own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of individual insurance or reinsurance undertakings in the group shall not be allowed. Where the methods described in Sections 96 to 99 allow own funds to be taken into account in such calculations, the following amounts shall be excluded:

- (a) the value of any asset of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking which represents the financing of own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of one of its related insurance or reinsurance undertakings;
- (b) the value of any asset of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking which represents the financing of own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of that participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
- (c) the value of any asset of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking which represents the financing of own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of any other related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of that participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(2) The following items may be included in the group solvency calculation in so far as they are eligible for covering the solvency capital requirement of the related undertaking concerned:

- (a) accumulated funds falling under Section 45(8);
- (b) any subscribed but not paid-up capital.

- (3) The following items shall in any event be excluded from the group solvency calculation:
- (a) subscribed but not paid-up capital which represents a potential obligation on the part of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
 - (b) subscribed but not paid-up capital of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking which represents a potential obligation on the part of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
 - (c) subscribed but not paid-up capital of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking which represents a potential obligation on the part of another related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of the same participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(4) Where the supervisory authorities consider that certain own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking other than those referred to in paragraph 2 cannot effectively be made available to cover the group solvency capital requirement, those own funds may be included in the group solvency calculation only in so far as they are eligible for covering the solvency capital requirement of the related undertaking.

(5) The sum of the own funds referred to in paragraphs 2 to 4 shall not exceed the solvency capital requirement of the related insurance or reinsurance undertaking for which the group solvency is calculated.

(6) Any eligible own funds of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking for which the group solvency is calculated that are subject to prior authorisation from the competent supervisory authority shall be included in the calculation only in so far as they have been duly authorised by the supervisory authority responsible for the supervision of that related undertaking. Where prior approval as referred to in the previous sentence is to be granted by Národná banka Slovenska, it shall proceed in accordance with Section 45.

Section 92

(1) In the calculation of group solvency, no account shall be taken of any own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement arising from reciprocal financing between the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking and any of the following:

- (a) a related undertaking;
- (b) a participating undertaking;
- (c) another related undertaking of any of its participating undertakings.

(2) In the calculation of group solvency, no account shall be taken of any own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking for which the group solvency is calculated where the own funds concerned arise from reciprocal financing with any other related undertaking of that participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(3) Reciprocal financing shall be deemed to exist at least where a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking, or any of its related undertakings, holds shares in, or makes loans to, another undertaking which, directly or indirectly, holds own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(4) The value of assets and liabilities shall be assessed in accordance with Section 36.

Section 93

(1) In the calculation of group solvency for an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which holds a participation in a related insurance or reinsurance undertaking for which the group solvency is calculated, through an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company, the situation of that insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company shall also be taken into account.

(2) For the purposes of that calculation, the intermediate insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company mentioned in paragraph 1 shall be treated as if it were an insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to the rules laid down of this Act in respect of the solvency capital requirement and in respect of own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement.

(3) In cases where an intermediate insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company as referred to in paragraph 1 holds eligible own funds classified in class 2 or class 3 under Section 46, the group solvency capital requirement shall be used to set limits for the individual classes of eligible own funds in accordance with Section 47.

(4) Any additional own funds of an intermediate insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company as referred to in paragraph 1 may be included in the calculation of the group solvency only in so far as they have been duly authorised by the group supervisor.

Section 94

(1) When calculating the group solvency of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which holds a share in a financial institution, the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking may use either the accounting consolidation-based method or the deduction and aggregation method under other legislation.²⁶ The accounting consolidation-based method may be used only if the group supervisor has no objections to the level of management and internal control integration in the entities included in such consolidation. The method chosen shall be applied in a consistent manner over the given period.

(2) Where Národná banka Slovenska assumes the role of group supervisor with regard to a particular group, it may decide, at the request of a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking or on its own initiative, to deduct any participation in a financial institution as referred to in paragraph 1 from the own funds eligible for the group solvency.

Section 95

Where Národná banka Slovenska exercises supervision over a group but has no information about a related undertaking, which is necessary for the calculation of the group solvency, the participation in that related undertaking and the retained earnings associated with that participation shall be deducted from the eligible own funds of the group.

Section 96

(1) Solvency at group level is the difference between the following:

- (a) the own funds eligible to cover the solvency capital requirement, calculated on the basis of consolidated data;
- (b) the solvency capital requirement at group level calculated on the basis of consolidated data.

(2) The rules laid down in Sections 45 to 62 apply to the calculation of the own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement and of the solvency capital requirement at group level based on consolidated data.

(3) The consolidated group solvency capital requirement is defined as solvency capital requirement at group level based on consolidated data. The consolidated group solvency capital requirement shall be calculated on the basis of either the standard formula or an approved internal model, in a manner consistent with the general principles laid down in Sections 48 to 62.

(4) The consolidated group solvency capital requirement shall have as a minimum the sum of the following:

- (a) the minimum capital requirement as referred to in Section 63 of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
- (b) the proportional share of the minimum capital requirement of the related insurance and reinsurance undertakings.

(5) The minimum consolidated group solvency capital requirement shall be covered by eligible basic own funds as determined in Section 47(4). The basic own funds of the group for the coverage of the minimum consolidated group solvency capital requirement shall be adjusted according to the principles laid down in Sections 89 to 95. If the basic own funds are insufficient for the coverage of the minimum consolidated group solvency capital requirement, the provisions of Section 145 apply mutatis mutandis.

Section 97

Internal model at group level

(1) The consolidated group solvency capital requirement shall be calculated on the basis of an internal model approved jointly by the group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned. An application for permission to calculate the consolidated group solvency capital requirement, as well as the solvency capital requirement for related undertakings, on the basis of an internal model, shall be submitted by a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking and its related undertakings. Where the ultimate EU parent undertaking is an insurance holding company, such application shall be submitted to the group supervisor jointly by the related undertakings of that insurance holding company. Where the ultimate EU parent undertaking is a mixed financial holding company, such application shall be submitted jointly by the related undertakings of that mixed financial holding company. The group supervisor shall inform the other supervisory authorities concerned and forward the complete application to them without delay. The group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned shall cooperate to decide whether or not to grant that permission and to determine the terms and conditions, if any, to which such permission is subject.

(2) The group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned shall do everything within their power to reach a joint decision on the application within six months from the date of receipt of the complete application by the group supervisor.

(3) If, during the period referred to in paragraph 2 and before a joint decision is reached, any of the supervisory authorities concerned consults the European supervisory authority, the group supervisor shall postpone its decision and await any decision the European supervisory authority may take within one month. After receiving the European supervisory authority's decision or after the expiry of the period mentioned in the previous sentence, the group supervisor shall take its own decision. This decision shall be in accordance with that of the European supervisory authority, if any, and shall be recognised as determinative and applied by the supervisory authorities concerned.

(4) As soon as the relevant supervisory authorities have reached a joint decision as referred to in paragraph 2, the group supervisor shall deliver that decision, including a full statement of the reasons, to the applicant.

(5) In the absence of a joint decision within six months from the date of receipt of the complete application, the group supervisor shall make its own decision on the application. In making its decision, the group supervisor shall duly take into account any views and reservations of the other supervisory authorities concerned expressed during that six-month period. The group supervisor shall send that decision, including a full statement of the reasons, to the applicant and the other supervisory authorities concerned. That decision shall be recognised as determinative and applied by all the supervisory authorities concerned.

(6) Where Národná banka Slovenska considers that the risk profile of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking under its supervision deviates significantly from the assumptions underlying the internal model approved at group level, and as long as that undertaking has not proved the contrary, Národná banka Slovenska may, in accordance with Section 141(1)(f), impose a capital add-on to the solvency capital requirement of that insurance or reinsurance undertaking resulting from the application of such internal model.

(7) In exceptional circumstances, where a capital add-on as referred to in paragraph 6 would not be appropriate, Národná banka Slovenska may require the undertaking concerned to calculate its solvency capital requirement on the basis of the standard formula. In accordance with Section 142(1)(a) and (c), Národná banka Slovenska may impose a capital add-on to the solvency capital requirement of that insurance or reinsurance undertaking resulting from the application of the standard formula.

(8) Národná banka Slovenska shall explain any decision referred to in paragraph 6 or 7 to both the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned and the other members of the college of supervisors.

Section 98

In determining whether the consolidated group solvency capital requirement appropriately reflects the risk profile of the group, the group supervisor shall pay particular attention to any case where the circumstances referred to in Section 142(1) may arise at group level, in particular where:

- (a) there are specific risks at group level which would not be sufficiently covered;
- (b) a capital add-on to the solvency capital requirement of the related undertakings is imposed by the supervisory authorities concerned.

Section 99

(1) The group solvency of a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall be the difference between the following:

- (a) the aggregated group eligible own funds, as provided for in paragraph 2;
- (b) the value of the related undertakings for which group solvency is calculated and the aggregated group solvency capital requirement, as provided for in paragraph 3.

(2) The aggregated group eligible own funds are the sum of the following:

- (a) the solvency capital requirement of the participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking;
- (b) the proportional share of the solvency capital requirement of the related undertakings for which group solvency is calculated.

(4) Where the participation of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking in a related undertaking for which group solvency is calculated consists, wholly or in part, of an indirect ownership, the items referred to in paragraphs 1(b), 2(b) and 3(b) shall include:

Section 100

(1) Where insurance and reinsurance undertakings are subsidiaries of an insurance holding company or of a mixed financial holding company which is an ultimate EU parent undertaking, the group supervisor shall ensure that the calculation of the group solvency is carried out at the level of the insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company in accordance with Sections 88(2) to 99.

(2) For the purpose of that calculation, the insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company shall be treated as if it were a participating insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to the rules laid down in this Act as regards the solvency capital requirement and the own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement.

Groups with centralised risk management

Section 101

The rules laid down in Sections 103 and 104 apply to any insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is the subsidiary of another insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State where all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) the subsidiary is included in the group supervision carried out by the group supervisor at the level of parent undertaking;
- (b) the risk management processes and internal control mechanisms of the parent undertaking cover the subsidiary and the parent undertaking satisfies the requirements regarding the prudent management of that subsidiary;
- (c) the parent undertaking has received the agreement referred to in Section 108(6);
- (d) the parent undertaking has received the agreement referred to in Section 116(2);
- (e) the parent undertaking's application for permission to be subject to Sections 103 and 104 has been approved in accordance with Section 102.

Section 102

(1) An insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is the subsidiary of another insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State is subject to the provisions of Sections 103 and 104 only after having been granted permission by a joint decision of the college of supervisors or by the group supervisor in accordance with paragraph 5. Such permission shall be granted on the basis of an application submitted to Národná banka Slovenska by the parent undertaking. Národná banka Slovenska shall inform and forward the complete application to the other supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors without delay. The supervisory authorities concerned shall work together within the college to decide whether or not to grant the permission sought and to specify the terms and conditions to which such permission shall be subject.

(2) The supervisory authorities concerned shall do everything within their power to reach a joint decision on the application within three months from the date of receipt of the complete application by all supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors.

(3) If, during the period referred to in paragraph 2 and before a joint decision is reached, any of the supervisory authorities consults the European supervisory authority, the group supervisor shall postpone its decision and await any decision the European supervisory authority may take within one month. After receiving the European supervisory authority's decision or after the expiry of the period mentioned in the previous sentence, the group supervisor shall take its own decision. This decision shall be in accordance with that of the European supervisory authority, if any, and shall be recognised as determinative and applied by all the supervisory authorities concerned.

(4) As soon as the supervisory authorities concerned have reached a joint decision as referred to in paragraph 2, Národná banka Slovenska shall deliver that decision, including a full statement of the reasons, to the applicant. Such joint decision shall be recognised as determinative and applied by Národná banka Slovenska.

(5) In the absence of a joint decision of the supervisory authorities concerned within the period set out in paragraph 2, the group supervisor shall take its own decision with regard to the application. In taking its decision, the group supervisor shall duly consider the following:

- (a) any views and reservations of the supervisory authorities concerned within the college of supervisors;
- (b) any reservations of the other supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors.

(6) The decision shall state the full reasons and shall contain an explanation of any significant deviation from the reservations of the supervisory authorities concerned within the college of supervisors pursuant to paragraph 5(a). The group supervisor shall provide the applicant and the supervisory authorities concerned with a copy of the decision. The decision shall be recognised as determinative and applied by all the supervisory authorities concerned.

Section 103

(1) Where the solvency capital requirement of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is a subsidiary is calculated on the basis of an internal model approved at group level in accordance with Section 97 and Národná banka Slovenska considers that its risk profile deviates significantly from this internal model, and as long as that undertaking does not prove the contrary, Národná banka Slovenska may, in the cases referred to in Section 142, propose to set a capital add-on to the solvency capital requirement of that subsidiary. In exceptional circumstances where such capital add-on would not be appropriate, Národná banka Slovenska may require that insurance or reinsurance undertaking to calculate its solvency capital requirement on the basis of the standard formula. Národná banka Slovenska shall discuss its proposal within the college of supervisors and communicate the grounds for such proposal to both the subsidiary and the college of supervisors.

(2) Where the solvency capital requirement of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is subsidiary is calculated on the basis of the standard formula and Národná banka Slovenska considers that its risk profile deviates significantly from the assumptions underlying the standard formula, and as long as that undertaking does not prove the contrary, Národná banka Slovenska may propose that the undertaking replace a subset of the parameters used in the standard formula calculation by parameters specific to that undertaking or may propose a capital add-on to the solvency capital requirement of that subsidiary in accordance with Section 142. Národná banka Slovenska shall discuss its proposal within the college of supervisors and communicate the grounds for such proposal to both the subsidiary and the college of supervisors.

(3) If the supervisory authorities concerned reach an agreement within the college of supervisors, that agreement shall be recognised as determinative and applied by all the supervisory authorities concerned. Národná banka Slovenska shall duly consider such agreement before taking its final decision. The decision shall be submitted to the subsidiary and to the college of supervisors.

(4) Where Národná banka Slovenska and the group supervisor disagree, the matter shall, within one month from the proposal of Národná banka Slovenska and before a joint agreement is reached in the college of supervisors, be referred for consultation to the European supervisory authority. Národná banka Slovenska shall postpone its decision and await any decision the European supervisory authority may take in the matter within one month. After receiving the European supervisory authority's decision or after the expiry of the period mentioned in the previous sentence, Národná banka Slovenska shall take its own decision. The decision shall state the full reasons and shall take into account the decision of the European supervisory authority, if any, and shall be recognised as determinative and applied by the supervisory authorities concerned. The decision shall be submitted to the subsidiary and to the college of supervisors.

(5) Where Národná banka Slovenska performs the functions of a group supervisor, it shall proceed in accordance with paragraphs 3 and 4, as appropriate.

Section 104

(1) Where an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is a subsidiary fails to comply with the solvency capital requirement, Národná banka Slovenska shall, without undue delay, forward to the college of supervisors the recovery plan submitted by that subsidiary in accordance with Section 144.

(2) The college of supervisors shall take a position on the recovery plan proposed under paragraph 1 within four months from the date on which non-compliance with the solvency capital requirement was first observed. Národná banka Slovenska shall decide whether the recovery plan should be approved, taking due account of the views and reservations of the other supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors.

(3) Where Národná banka Slovenska identifies deteriorating financial conditions, it shall notify the college of supervisors without delay of the proposed measures to be taken in relation to an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is a subsidiary. Save in emergency situations, the measures to be taken shall be discussed within the college of supervisors.

(4) The college of supervisors shall take a position on the proposed measures within one month from the date of receipt of the proposal of Národná banka Slovenska. Národná banka Slovenska shall impose those measures on the insurance or reinsurance which is a subsidiary, taking due account of the views and reservations of the other supervisory authorities within the college of supervisors.

(5) Where an insurance or reinsurance undertaking which is a subsidiary fails to comply with the minimum capital requirement, Národná banka Slovenska may, without undue delay, forward to the college of supervisors the short-term finance scheme submitted by that subsidiary in accordance with Section 145. Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the college of supervisors of any measures taken by that insurance or reinsurance undertaking to enforce the minimum capital requirement.

(6) Národná banka Slovenska or the group supervisor may forward to the European supervisory authority the matter referred to in paragraphs 2 to 4 if they disagree with the following:

- (a) the approval of the recovery plan, including any postponement of the time limit for recovery, within the period specified in paragraph 2; or
- (b) the approval of the proposed measures within the period specified in paragraph 4.

(7) The matter referred to in paragraphs 2 to 4 shall not be forwarded to the European supervisory authority in the following cases:

- (a) upon expiry of the period specified in paragraph 6;
- (b) after an agreement has been reached in the college of supervisors; or
- (c) in situations that allow no delay as specified in paragraph 3.

(8) Národná banka Slovenska shall postpone its decision and await any decision the European supervisory authority may take in the matter within one month. After receiving the European supervisory authority's decision or upon the expiry of the period provided for in the previous sentence, Národná banka Slovenska shall take its own decision. Such decision shall state the full reasons and shall take into account the decision of the European supervisory authority, if any, and shall be recognised as determinative and applied by the supervisory authorities concerned. The decision shall be submitted to the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned, as well as to the college of supervisors.

(9) Where Národná banka Slovenska performs the functions of a group supervisor, it shall proceed in accordance with paragraphs 6 and 7, as appropriate.

Section 105

- (1) The procedures set out in Sections 103 and 104 shall no longer be applied if:

 - (b) the condition set out in Section 101(b) is not met and the group fails to meet it again within a reasonable period of time; or
 - (c) the conditions set out in Section 101(c) and (d) are not satisfied.

(2) If Národná banka Slovenska as a group supervisor decides, after consulting the college of supervisors, to exclude a subsidiary from group supervision in accordance with Section 83(2), it shall, without undue delay, inform the parent undertaking and the supervisory authority that granted permission to that subsidiary.

(3) Parent undertakings shall be responsible for complying with the conditions set out in Sections 101(b), 108 and 116 on a continuous basis. If a parent undertaking fails to meet these conditions, it shall promptly inform the group supervisor and the supervisory authority of the subsidiary concerned. Such parent undertaking shall submit a plan to ensure compliance with the conditions set out in Section 101(b) and Sections 108 and 116 within a reasonable time frame.

(4) The group supervisor shall verify at least annually, on its own initiative, that the conditions referred to in Section 101(b) and Sections 108 and 116 continue to be complied with. The group supervisor shall also perform such verification upon request from the supervisory authority concerned. Where the verification performed identifies weaknesses, the parent undertaking shall submit to the group supervisor a plan to restore compliance with Section 101(b) and Sections 108 and 116 within an appropriate period of time.

(5) Where, after consulting the college of supervisors, the group supervisor determines that the plan referred to in paragraph 3 or 4 is insufficient or subsequently that it is not being implemented within the agreed period of time, the group supervisor shall conclude that the conditions referred to in Section 101(b) and Sections 108 and 116 are no longer complied with and it shall immediately inform the supervisory authority concerned.

(6) The provisions of Section 103 and 104 shall be applicable again where a new application is submitted in accordance with Section 102.

(7) The provisions of Section 101 to 105 apply to insurance and reinsurance undertakings which are the subsidiaries of insurance holding companies or mixed financial holding companies.

Risk concentration and intra-group transactions

Section 106

(1) Supervision of risk concentration at group level shall be exercised by the group supervisor in accordance with paragraphs 2 and 3 and Sections 109 to 119.

(2) Where Section 84(3) does not apply, ultimate EU parent undertakings shall report on a regular basis, at least annually, to the group supervisor any significant risk concentration at the level of the group. Such reports may also be submitted to the group supervisor by other undertakings from the group, which shall be selected by the group supervisor after consulting the college of supervisors and the ultimate EU parent undertaking.

(3) The group supervisor, after consulting the college of supervisors and the ultimate EU parent undertaking, shall specify the type of risks that are to be reported. When defining or giving their opinion about the type of risks, the group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned within the college of supervisors shall take into account the specific group and the risk management structure of that group.

(4) In order to identify significant risk concentrations to be reported, the group supervisor, after consulting the other supervisory authorities concerned within the college of supervisors and the ultimate EU parent undertaking, shall impose appropriate thresholds based on solvency capital requirements, technical provisions, or both. When reviewing the risk concentrations, the group supervisor shall in particular monitor the possible risk of contagion in the group, the risk of a conflict of interests, and the level or volume of risks.

Section 107

Supervision of intra-group transactions

Ultimate EU parent undertakings shall, without undue delay, report each significant intra-group transaction that may affect the financial position of an undertaking in the group. Such reports may also be submitted to the group supervisor by other undertakings from the group, which shall be selected by the group supervisor after consultation with the college of supervisors and the ultimate EU parent undertaking.

(3) The group supervisor, after consulting the college of supervisors and the ultimate EU parent undertaking, shall specify the type of intra-group transactions insurance undertakings, insurance undertakings from other Member States, reinsurance undertakings, and reinsurance undertakings from other Member States must report to the group in all circumstances.

(4) The significance of intra-group transactions shall be determined in accordance with Section 106(4), as appropriate.

Risk management and internal control

Section 108

(1) The requirements set out in Section 23 to 30 apply mutatis mutandis at the level of the group. The risk management and internal control systems and reporting procedures shall be implemented consistently in all the undertakings included in the scope of group supervision so that those systems and reporting procedures can be controlled at the level of the group.

(2) The group internal control mechanisms shall include at least the following:

- (a) adequate mechanisms as regards group solvency to identify and measure all material risks incurred and to appropriately relate eligible own funds to risks;

(b) sound reporting and accounting procedures to monitor and manage the intra-group transactions and the risk concentration.

(3) The systems and reporting procedures referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 are subject to supervisory review by the group supervisor, in accordance with the rules laid down in Sections 109 to 119.

(4) Ultimate EU parent undertakings shall conduct own-risk and solvency assessments at group level in accordance with Section 26. Such assessments are subject to supervisory review by the group supervisor under Sections 109 to 119.

(5) Where the calculation of solvency at group level is carried out according to the accounting consolidation-based method, the ultimate EU parent undertaking shall provide to the group supervisor a proper understanding of the difference between the sum of the solvency capital requirements of all the related insurance or reinsurance undertakings of the group and the group consolidated solvency capital requirement.

(6) Subject to the agreement of the group supervisor, the ultimate EU parent undertaking may undertake any assessment required by Section 26 at the level of the group and at the level of any subsidiary in the group at the same time, and may produce a single document covering all the assessments made. That document shall be submitted to all supervisory authorities concerned. The exercise of that option shall not exempt the subsidiaries concerned from the obligation to ensure that the requirements of Section 26 are met.

(7) Before granting an agreement in accordance with paragraph 6, the group supervisor shall consult the members of the college of supervisors and duly take into account their views or reservations.

Measures to facilitate group supervision

Section 109

(1) A single supervisor, responsible for the coordination and exercise of group supervision (group supervisor), shall be designated from among the supervisory authorities of the Member States concerned.

(2) In the case of a group formed by insurance or reinsurance undertakings, excluding insurance and reinsurance undertakings from other Member States and third countries, the task of group supervisor shall be exercised by Národná banka Slovenska.

(3) In all other cases and subject to paragraph 2 or 4, the task of group supervisor shall be exercised:

(a) where the group is headed by an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or an insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State as an ultimate parent undertaking, by the supervisory authority which has authorised that undertaking;

- (b) where the parent of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State is an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company, by the supervisory authority which has authorised that undertaking;
- (c) where more than one insurance or reinsurance undertaking or more than one insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State have as their parent the same insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company, and one of those undertakings has been authorised in the Member State in which the insurance holding company has its registered office, by the supervisory authority of the undertaking authorised in that Member State;
- (d) where the group is headed by more than one insurance holding company or mixed financial holding company with a registered office in different Member States and there is an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or an insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State in each of those Member States, by the supervisory authority which has authorised the insurance or reinsurance undertaking or the insurance or reinsurance undertaking from another Member State with the largest balance sheet total;

(4) The supervisory authorities concerned may, at the request of any of the authorities, take a joint decision to derogate from the criteria set out in paragraph 3 where their application would be inappropriate, taking into account the structure of the group and the relative importance of the business of insurance and reinsurance undertakings and of insurance and reinsurance undertakings from other Member States in different countries, and designate a different supervisory authority as group supervisor. For that purpose, any of the supervisory authorities concerned may request that a discussion be opened on whether the criteria referred to in paragraph 3 are appropriate. Such a discussion shall not take place more often than annually.

(5) The supervisory authorities concerned shall do everything within their power to reach a joint decision on the choice of the group supervisor within three months from the request mentioned in paragraph 4. Before taking their decision, the supervisory authorities concerned shall give the group an opportunity to state its opinion. The supervisory authorities concerned shall take a joint decision in accordance with the decision of the European supervisory authority, if such decision is available. The joint decision shall be recognised as determinative and applied by all the supervisory authorities concerned. The group supervisor shall deliver the joint decision, including a full statement of the reasons, to the group. Section 110

(3) The establishment and functioning of the college of supervisors shall be based on coordination arrangements concluded by the group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned.

(4) In the event of diverging views concerning the coordination arrangements, any member of the college of supervisors may refer the matter to the European supervisory authority. (5) The coordination arrangements referred to in paragraph 3 shall establish procedures for:

- (a) the decision-making process among the supervisory authorities concerned;
- (b) consultations held among the supervisory authorities concerned.

(6) The coordination arrangements may entrust additional tasks to the group supervisor, the other supervisory authorities, or the European supervisory authority where this would result in the more efficient supervision of the group and would not impair the supervisory activities of the members of the college of supervisors in respect of their individual responsibilities.

(7) The coordination arrangements may also set out procedures for cooperation with other supervisory authorities.

(8) Where Národná banka Slovenska acts as a group supervisor in accordance with Section 109, it shall inform the European supervisory authority about the functioning of the college of supervisors and about any difficulties encountered during the activities of the college.

Such information shall also include information about the actions of the group, the actions of Národná banka Slovenska being the group supervisor, and information provided by the group.

(3) Where no relevant information is reported to Národná banka Slovenska by the supervisory authorities or where a request for cooperation, in particular a request for information exchange, is rejected or is not settled within two weeks, Národná banka Slovenska may refer the matter to the European supervisory authority.

(4) Národná banka Slovenska, acting as a group supervisor under Section 109, shall provide the supervisory authorities concerned and the European supervisory authority with any information on the group regarding its close links and information as specified in Sections 33(2) and 115(2), in particular information on its legal structure, organisation and management.

(5) Národná banka Slovenska shall call immediately for a meeting of the college of supervisors in at least the following cases:

(2) If Národná banka Slovenska, when called upon by the group supervisor, requests from the parent undertaking of a group which has its registered office in the Slovak Republic any information which would be relevant for the exercise of its rights and duties as a group supervisor, the parent undertaking shall provide the requested information within the time limit set by Národná banka Slovenska.

(3) The group supervisor shall, when it needs information as referred to in Section 115(2) which has already been given to another supervisory authority, contact that authority whenever possible in order to prevent duplication of reporting to the various authorities involved in supervision.

Section 114

Where an insurance or reinsurance undertaking and either a bank established in another Member State or a collective investment undertaking established in another Member State, or both, are directly or indirectly related or have a common participating undertaking, Národná banka Slovenska and the supervisory authorities of those Member States responsible for the supervision of banks and collective investment undertakings shall cooperate closely.

Section 115

(2) When exercising group supervision, Národná banka Slovenska may request any information it needs for the exercise of such supervision. Národná banka Slovenska may address the undertakings in the group directly to obtain the necessary information, only where such information has been requested from an insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to group supervision and has not been supplied by it within a reasonable period of time. The undertaking concerned shall provide the requested information within the time limit specified by Národná banka Slovenska.

(3) In its capacity as group supervisor, Národná banka Slovenska may grant an exemption from the requirement to submit data on a regular basis at group level, at intervals shorter than one year, where all insurance and reinsurance undertakings, as well as insurance and reinsurance undertaking from other Member States belonging to the group benefit from such data submission with regard to the nature, scope, and complexity of the risks inherent in the group's activities.

(4) In its capacity as group supervisor, Národná banka Slovenska may grant an exemption from the requirement to submit data on an individual basis at group level, where all insurance and reinsurance undertakings, as well as insurance or reinsurance undertaking from other Member States belonging to the group benefit from such data submission with regard to the nature, scope, and complexity of the risks inherent in the group's activities and with regard to the objective to maintain financial stability.

Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the group supervisor of any measure it takes.

(9) Where Národná banka Slovenska has requested the supervisory authority of another Member State to verify information about an undertaking in a group with a registered office in that Member State and that request is not settled within two weeks or Národná banka Slovenska cannot carry out an on-site inspection in the territory of that Member State, Národná banka Slovenska may refer the matter to the European supervisory authority and request assistance in accordance with other legislation.²²

(4) Where the report referred to in paragraph 2 fails to include information about an insurance or reinsurance undertaking within the group which Národná banka Slovenska requires comparable undertakings to provide, and where the omission is material, Národná banka Slovenska may require the insurance or reinsurance undertaking concerned to disclose the necessary additional information.

Section 117

Insurance and reinsurance undertakings, insurance holding companies, and mixed financial holding companies shall, at least annually, disclose information on the legal structure, management and organisation of their group, including a description of all subsidiaries, significant related undertakings and significant branches belonging to the group.

Section 118

All persons who effectively run an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company shall meet the professional competence and good repute requirements for the performance of their duties. The fulfilment of the requirements mentioned in the previous sentence are subject to the provisions of Section 24.

Section 119

(1) Where Národná banka Slovenska exercises supervision over a group and the requirements referred to in Sections 87 to 108 are not met or where the requirements are met but solvency may be jeopardised or where the intra-group transactions or the risk concentrations are a threat to the financial position of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings in the group or of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings from other Member States therein, Národná banka Slovenska may require the ultimate parent undertaking, being an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company established in the Slovak Republic, to adopt the necessary measures in order to rectify the situation as soon as possible.

(2) Where the ultimate parent undertaking is an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company established in another Member State, Národná banka Slovenska shall, when acting as a group supervisor, inform the supervisory authority of that Member State of its findings with a view to enabling that authority to take the necessary measures.

(3) Where Národná banka Slovenska exercises supervision over a group and the requirements referred to in Sections 87 to 108 are not met or where the requirements are met but solvency may be jeopardised or where the intra-group transactions or the risk concentrations are a threat to the financial position of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings in the group or of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings from other Member States therein, Národná banka Slovenska shall inform the supervisory authority of the insurance or reinsurance undertaking from that Member State of its findings with a view to enabling that supervisory authority to take the necessary measures.

(4) Where the insurance or reinsurance undertakings in a group do not comply with the requirements referred to in Sections 87 to 108 or where the requirements are met but solvency may be jeopardised or where the intra-group transactions or the risk concentrations are a threat to the financial position of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings, Národná banka Slovenska may require that the necessary measures be taken in order that the situation is rectified as soon as possible.

(6) Národná banka Slovenska shall coordinate its measures and cooperate closely with the group supervisor and the other supervisory authorities concerned to ensure that the sanctions or measures are effective.

Third countries

Section 120

(1) In the case referred to in Section 82(2)(c), Národná banka Slovenska shall verify whether the insurance and reinsurance undertakings, the parent undertaking of which has its registered office outside the European Union, are subject to supervision, by a third-country supervisory authority, which is equivalent to group supervision under this Act.

(2) The verification under paragraph 1 shall be carried out by Národná banka Slovenska being the group supervisor, where the criteria set out in Section 109(2) are applied, at the request of the parent undertaking or of any of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings, or insurance or reinsurance undertaking from other Member States established within the European Union or on its own initiative, unless the Commission had concluded previously in respect of the equivalence of a third country.

(3) In carrying out the verification referred to in paragraph 2, Národná banka Slovenska shall cooperate with the European supervisory authority and consult the other supervisory authorities concerned before taking a decision on equivalence. Národná banka Slovenska shall not take, in relation to a third country, any decision that would contradict a previous decision taken in relation to that country, except for a decision to take into account major changes in the regime referred to in Sections 24 to 64 and in the supervision regime of that country.

(4) If the group supervisor takes a decision regarding the equivalence of a third-country solvency regime but Národná banka Slovenska disagrees to that decision, it may refer the matter to the European supervisory authority and request assistance under other legislation²² within three months from the date when the decision was reported by the group supervisor.

(5) Where the Commission adopts a decision regarding the equivalence of a third-country solvency regime, paragraphs 1 to 4 shall not apply.

(6) In cases where group supervision in a country that is not a Member State is equivalent to group supervision under this Act, supervision at group level shall be exercised by the supervisory authority of the third country concerned.

(7) In cases where group supervision in a country that is not a Member State is temporarily equivalent to group supervision under this Act and the value of assets in the balance sheet of any of the insurance or reinsurance undertakings, or insurance of reinsurance undertakings from other Member States, does not exceed:

- (a) the value of assets in the balance sheet of the parent undertaking located in a country that is not a member State, supervision at group level shall be exercised by the supervisory authority of that third country;
- (b) the value of assets in the balance sheet of the parent undertaking located in a country that is not a Member State, supervision at group level shall be exercised by the group supervisor designated in accordance with Section 109.

(8) Cooperation between Národná banka Slovenska and the supervisory authorities of third countries under paragraphs 6 and 7 is subject mutatis mutandis to the provisions of Sections 109 to 119.

Section 121

(1) In the absence of equivalent supervision as referred to in Section 120 or where group supervision is exercised under Section 120(7)(b), Národná banka Slovenska shall apply mutatis mutandis to the insurance and reinsurance undertakings in the group either Sections 87 to 119, with the exception of Sections 101 to 105, or one of the methods set out in paragraph 4.

(2) The general principles and methods set out in Sections 87 to 119 apply at the level of parent undertakings with a registered office in a country that is not a Member State.

(3) For the sole purpose of group solvency calculation, the parent undertaking shall be treated as if it were an insurance or reinsurance undertaking subject to the provisions of Sections 45 to 47 regarding the own funds eligible for the solvency capital requirement. The solvency capital requirement shall be determined in accordance with the following principles:

- (a) the principles of Section 93, where it is an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company; or
- (b) the principles of Section 90(3) to (7), where it is a third-country insurance undertaking or a third-country reinsurance undertaking.

(4) In order to achieve the objectives of group supervision defined in this Title, Národná banka Slovenska may also apply other methods which ensure appropriate supervision of insurance and reinsurance undertakings in a group. Those methods must be agreed by the group supervisor, after consulting the other supervisory authorities, and reported to the supervisory authorities concerned and to the Commission. Národná banka Slovenska may in particular require the establishment of an insurance holding company or a mixed financial holding company with a registered office in a Member State.

Section 122

(1) Where the parent undertaking referred to in Section 120 is itself a subsidiary of an insurance holding company having its registered office outside the European Union or of a third-country mixed financial holding company or is a subsidiary of a third-country insurance or reinsurance undertaking, the verification provided for in Section 120 shall be applied only at the level of the ultimate parent undertaking which is a third-country insurance holding company, a third-country mixed financial holding company, or a third-country insurance or reinsurance undertaking.

(2) Národná banka Slovenska may decide, in the absence of equivalent supervision as referred to in Section 120, to carry out a new verification at a lower level where a parent undertaking of insurance or reinsurance undertakings exists, whether a third-country insurance holding company, a third-country mixed financial holding company or a third-country insurance or reinsurance undertaking. In such a case, Národná banka Slovenska shall explain its decision to the group and to the supervisory authorities concerned.

(3) The provisions of Section 121 apply mutatis mutandis.

Section 123

Where the parent undertaking of one or more insurance or reinsurance undertakings is a mixed insurance holding company, Národná banka Slovenska shall exercise supervision over transactions between those insurance or reinsurance undertakings and the mixed insurance holding company and its related undertakings. Such supervision is subject mutatis mutandis to Sections 107, 111 to 115, and 119.

Section 127

(1) Národná banka Slovenska shall determine, on the basis of the criteria set out in Section 128 and in cooperation with the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities included in a financial conglomerate, which financial conglomerates will be subject to supplementary supervision.

Section 128

(1) A group's activities are deemed to occur mainly in the financial sector if the ratio of the balance sheet total of the regulated and non-regulated financial sector entities in the group to the balance sheet total of the group as a whole exceeds 40%.

(2) Activities in different financial sectors are deemed to be significant if, for the given sector, the average of the following ratios exceeds 10%:

- (a) the ratio of the balance sheet total of that financial sector to the balance sheet total of the financial sector entities in the group; and
- (b) the ratio of the minimum capital requirements of the same financial sector to the total capital requirements of the financial sector entities in the group.

(3) The smallest financial sector in a financial conglomerate is the sector with the smallest average under paragraph 2 and the most important financial sector in a financial conglomerate is the sector with the highest average under paragraph 2. For the purpose of calculating the average, under paragraph 2 and for the measurement of the smallest and the most important financial sectors within a financial conglomerate, the banking sector and the investment services sector are considered together.

(4) Where a group fails to reach the average value of proportions as defined in paragraph 2 but total assets in the smallest financial sector represented in the group amount to more than EUR 6,000,000,000, or where a group reaches the average value of proportions as defined in paragraph 2 but total assets in the smallest financial sector in the group amount to less than EUR 6,000,000,000, Národná banka Slovenska may decide, upon agreement with the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities belonging to a financial conglomerate, that the group in question shall not be considered a financial conglomerate or that the provisions of Sections 130 to 133 shall not apply where the exercise of supplementary supervision is inappropriate in view of the goals of supplementary supervision.

(5) Národná banka Slovenska shall report its decisions taken in accordance with paragraph 4 to the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, and shall publish these decisions unless their publication is hindered by extraordinary circumstances.

(6) Národná banka Slovenska may, upon agreement with the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, exclude one or more participations in the smallest sector if these participations are decisive for the identification of a financial conglomerate and they together are of negligible significance for the purposes of supplementary supervision. Národná banka Slovenska may, upon agreement with the competent supervisory authorities of other

Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, exclude a legal person from the calculation of proportions under paragraphs 1 to 3 where:

- (a) the person concerned has its registered office in a country that is not a Member State and the law of that country does not enable any exchange of information for the purposes of supplementary supervision; however, a person who has moved its registered office from a Member State to a third country to avoid supervision may not be excluded from the calculation of proportions under paragraphs 1 to 3;
- (b) the person concerned is of negligible significance for the purposes of supplementary supervision;
- (c) the person concerned is unsuitable for being included in a financial conglomerate in view of the goals of supplementary supervision.

(7) Národná banka Slovenska may, after consulting the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, take into account the values of proportions as defined in paragraphs 1 and 2 for three successive years, in order to avoid a sudden change in the regime of supplementary supervision, or take no account of the values of proportions as defined in paragraphs 1 and 2 where significant changes occur in the structure of the group.

(8) Národná banka Slovenska may, in fully justified cases and after consulting the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, replace or supplement the criterion based on total assets with one or more criteria based on the structure of revenues, total assets under management, or off-balance-sheet operations in the calculation of proportions under paragraphs 1 and 2, or add one or more criteria of special importance in view of the goals of supplementary supervision.

(9) If the value of the proportion defined in paragraph 1 decreases below 40% or if the average value of proportions defined in paragraph 2 falls below 10% for financial conglomerates that are subject to supplementary supervision, the value of the proportion calculated under paragraph 1 shall be 35% for the next three years, and the average value of proportions calculated under paragraph 2 shall be 8%.

(10) If, in the case of a group that is already under supplementary supervision, total assets in the group's smallest financial sector fall below EUR 6,000,000,000, the amount to be used in calculations under paragraph 4 shall be EUR 5,000,000,000 in the next three years.

(11) Národná banka Slovenska may, with the consent of the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate and during the period set in paragraphs 7 to 10, stipulate that the lower values of proportions or the smaller amount given in paragraphs 7 to 10 are no longer valid for financial conglomerates that are subject to supplementary supervision.

(12) Total assets shall be calculated as the sum of total assets held by persons in a group on the basis of their individual financial statements. In the case of persons in which a holding has been acquired, the amount of the acquired holding shall be taken into account for the purposes of such calculations. Where consolidated financial statements are available, such statements shall be used instead of the individual financial statements.

(13) For the purposes of supplementary supervision, the minimum amount of own funds of an insurance or reinsurance undertaking or of a branch of a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking must reach the level of the solvency capital requirement.

(14) Requirements for the minimum amount of own funds of regulated entities other than insurance undertakings, branches of foreign insurance undertakings, reinsurance undertakings, or branches of foreign reinsurance undertakings, which are taken into account in the calculations under paragraphs 2 to 6, are laid down in other acts,²⁴ which apply to the calculation of capital requirements and the amount of own funds for the regulated entity concerned.

(15) Národná banka Slovenska shall evaluate each year the process of supplementary supervision for deviations and shall assess the quantitative indicators specified in paragraphs 1 to 14 and the risks faced by financial groups.

Section 129

(1) Insurance undertakings, foreign insurance undertakings, including their branches, reinsurance undertakings, and foreign reinsurance undertakings, including their branches, which are part of a financial conglomerate, shall comply with the conditions set out in Sections 130 to 133, where:

- (a) they control the financial conglomerate;
- (b) their parent undertaking is a mixed financial holding company established in a Member State;
- (c) they are linked with a legal person from another financial sector by a control relationship as defined in points 3 and 4 of Section 5(g); or
- (d) their parent company is a regulated entity or a mixed financial holding company established in a country is not a Member State, where financial conglomerates are under supervision that is equivalent to supplementary supervision under this Act.

(2) Where a financial conglomerate is a sub-group of another financial conglomerate, which comprises an insurance undertaking, a foreign insurance undertaking, including its branches, a reinsurance undertaking, and a foreign reinsurance undertaking, including its branches, satisfying any of the conditions set out in paragraph 1, the conditions stipulated by Sections 130 to 133 apply to the insurance or reinsurance undertaking, or to the foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking, including its branches, which is part of the financial conglomerate that comprises the subgroup.

(3) Insurance undertakings, foreign insurance undertakings, including their branches, reinsurance undertakings, and foreign reinsurance undertaking, including their branches, whose parent company is a regulated entity or a mixed financial holding company established in a non-Member State where financial conglomerates are not subject to supervision equivalent to supplementary supervision under this Act, shall comply with the conditions set out in Sections 130 to 133. Where the conditions set out in Sections 130 to 133 cannot be met, since supervision in a third country is not equivalent to supplementary supervision under this Act, Národná banka Slovenska may require an insurance undertaking, a foreign insurance undertaking, including its branches, a reinsurance undertaking, or a foreign reinsurance undertaking, including its branches, which is part of a financial conglomerate, to submit to Národná banka Slovenska statements and reports on whether the undertaking is part of a financial conglomerate and it may limit or prohibit such undertaking to conduct intra-group transactions that could affect compliance with the solvency conditions.

(4) Národná banka Slovenska shall verify whether a financial conglomerate as referred to in paragraph 3 is under supervision that is equivalent to supplementary supervision under this Act, if it is so agreed with the supervisory authorities of the Member States in which the regulated entities that are part of the financial conglomerate are established, at the request of the parent company under paragraph 3, or at the request of a regulated entity that is part of the financial conglomerate, or on its own initiative. Národná banka Slovenska shall consult the European Commission's Committee for Financial Conglomerates about the issuance of a decision under paragraph 3. If Národná banka Slovenska disagrees with the decision taken by the competent authority of the Member State concerned in the matter referred to in the first sentence, it shall proceed in accordance with other legislation.⁶⁴

(5) Where legal entities have a participating interest in one or several regulated entities or they exercise significant influence over regulated entities other than influence as referred to in paragraphs 1 to 3 without capital participation, Národná banka Slovenska shall determine, in cooperation with the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, whether and to what extent these regulated entities will be subject to supplementary supervision as if they were a financial conglomerate subject to supplementary supervision. For such supplementary supervision to be applied, at least one of the legal entities referred to in the first sentence must be an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, or a foreign insurance or reinsurance undertaking or its branch, and the conditions set out in Section 125(a)(1c) and (1d) must be fulfilled; this is necessary for the goals of supplementary supervision to be achieved.

Section 130

(1) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings, insurance and reinsurance undertakings from other Member States, and third-country insurance and reinsurance undertakings, including their branches, which are part of a financial conglomerate, shall ensure that a sufficient amount of own funds is maintained at the level of financial conglomerates and that rules are adopted at the level of financial conglomerates to this end. The own funds of a financial conglomerate shall be considered sufficient if the difference between the own funds of the financial conglomerate and the sum of the minimum amounts of own funds of persons belonging to the financial conglomerate is zero or a positive figure.

(2) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings that are part of a financial conglomerate shall calculate the sufficient amount of own funds at the level of the financial conglomerate according to one of the methods stipulated by Národná banka Slovenska in a decree issued in accordance with paragraph 9.

(3) Národná banka Slovenska may, after consulting the competent supervisory authorities of other Member States which are responsible for the supervision of regulated entities that are part of a financial conglomerate, notify a regulated entity or a mixed financial holding company, on its own initiative or at the request of the regulated entity or mixed financial holding company in accordance with paragraph 4, as to which of the methods stipulated by Národná banka Slovenska in a decree issued under paragraph 9 is to be used to calculate the adequate amount of own funds.

(4) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings controlling a financial conglomerate shall supply Národná banka Slovenska, semi-annually or when requested by Národná banka Slovenska, with data on the amount of own funds and the amount of own funds at the level of the financial conglomerate needed for meeting the requirement that a sufficient amount of own funds be maintained by financial conglomerates that are subject to supplementary supervision. If a financial conglomerate is not controlled by an insurance or reinsurance undertaking, the data referred to in the first sentence shall be supplied to Národná banka Slovenska by a mixed financial holding company or by a regulated entity selected by Národná banka Slovenska after consultation with the regulated entities or mixed financial holding companies that constitute the financial conglomerate.

(5) Requirements for own funds shall be taken into account in the calculation of the sufficient amount of own funds for a financial conglomerate only in respect of legal entities under Section 125(b) and mixed financial holding companies.

(6) Národná banka Slovenska may decide to omit, from the calculation of the sufficient amount of own funds for a financial conglomerate that is subject to supplementary supervision, the following persons:

- (a) a legal person established in a country that is not a Member State, the law of which does not allow any exchange of information for the purposes of supplementary supervision;
- (b) a legal person which is of negligible importance for the purposes of supplementary supervision exercised over regulated entities constituting a financial conglomerate; this shall not apply where more legal entities are to be omitted from the calculation, whose total share in the financial conglomerate is significant under Section 128(2) and (4);
- (c) a legal person whose inclusion in the calculation would be inappropriate or inadequate in view of the goals of supplementary supervision.

(7) Národná banka Slovenska shall discuss the omission of a person under paragraph 6(c) with the supervisory authority that is responsible for the exercise of supplementary supervision in the Member State concerned.

(8) The provisions of paragraph 6 are without prejudice to the obligation of the persons concerned to supply information for the purposes of supplementary supervision, nor to the authorisation of supervisory authorities to provide information on these persons for the purposes of supplementary supervision or supervision exercised over financial conglomerates in other Member States.

(9) For the purpose of calculating the sufficient amount of own funds for financial conglomerates, Národná banka Slovenska shall, in a decree published in the Collection of Laws, specify the following:

Section 131

- (d) technical provisions for life insurance;
- (e) technical provisions for the coverage of risks from investment in financial instruments on behalf of the insured;
- (f) other technical provisions.

(2) Technical provisions as referred to in paragraph 1 shall be created in a sufficient amount to ensure that the insurance undertaking concerned is able at any moment to discharge fully its liabilities towards contract holders, insured persons and beneficiaries, and shall be used to cover the undertaking's liabilities.

(3) Other technical provisions as referred to in paragraph 1(f) may be established by an insurance undertaking if its liabilities to insured persons cannot be settled from technical provisions created under paragraph 1(a) to (e). The establishment of other technical provisions is subject to the prior approval of Národná banka Slovenska, issued at the request of the insurance undertaking.

(4) Insurance undertakings shall establish technical provisions under paragraph 1 where this is laid down in the reinsurance contracts they have concluded, in a sufficient amount to ensure that they are able at any moment to discharge fully their liabilities arising from the reinsurance contracts.

(5) Technical provisions under paragraph 1 shall be created separately for life insurance and separately for non-life insurance. Technical provisions shall be recorded in the books of accounts separately from the other liabilities of the insurance undertaking.

(6) Insurance undertakings shall establish technical provisions for the entire scope of their business; the technical provisions shall be kept in the form of assets in accordance with Section 178.

(7) Where a reinsurance undertaking, a reinsurance undertaking from another Member State, a third-country reinsurance undertaking, or a branch of a third-country reinsurance undertaking also contributes to the creation of technical provisions for an insurance undertaking, the insurance undertaking shall conclude a reinsurance contract to ensure that its capacity to discharge its liabilities arising from the insurance contracts it has concluded remains unaffected.

(8) Insurance undertakings shall prove to Národná banka Slovenska that they have established adequate technical provisions under paragraphs 2 and 4 by carrying out a test of liability adequacy⁸⁶ and provide Národná banka Slovenska on request with all the data, information and documents it needs to calculate the adequacy of the technical provisions.

Section 172

Calculation of technical provisions for life insurance: applicable principles

(1) The following principles shall be observed during the calculation of technical provisions for life insurance:

- (a) the amount of technical provisions for life insurance is to be calculated using a sufficiently prudent prospective method, and the calculation must be based on future premium payments and future liabilities which are specified in every insurance contract as part of the terms and conditions, including:
 - 1. the guaranteed insurance benefits, including the guaranteed surrender value;
 - 2. the bonuses to which a claim has arisen, regardless of the character of these bonuses;
 - 3. the options which the policyholder is entitled to under the insurance contract;
 - 4. the administrative costs and commissions;
- (b) a retrospective method may be used to calculate the amount of technical provisions for life assurance only if the amount calculated using this method turns out to be lower than the amount calculated using a sufficiently prudent prospective method, or if a prospective method is not allowed to be used under the insurance contract;
- (c) a sufficiently prudent prospective method for the valuation of technical provisions does not mean the use of a best estimate, but it should include an adequate margin for the negative deviations from the evaluation preconditions;
- (d) the method used to calculate the amount of technical provisions for life insurance must be sufficiently prudent also in relation to the method applied for the valuation of assets which are used to cover these technical provisions;
- (e) the amount of technical provisions for life assurance is to be calculated using an actuarial method for each insurance contract separately; such technical provisions may also be calculated for each insurance contract or for more insurance contracts by way of estimation or generalisation of the data used for their calculation, if the results of these calculation methods are similar to those obtained from the calculation of technical provisions using an actuarial method for each insurance contract separately; the calculation of technical provisions for life assurance on an individual basis must not obstruct the creation of other technical provisions for insurance risks which are not individualised;

- (f) the value of technical provisions calculated for each life insurance contract must correspond to at least the guaranteed surrender value throughout the lifetime of the contract, if the surrender value is guaranteed.

(2) Insurance undertakings shall specify the preconditions to be used in the valuation procedure and the part of the technical provisions for life assurance earmarked for the coverage of their future expenses, taking into account the contents of the insurance contract and the expected administrative costs, including commissions.

(3) In calculating the amount of technical provisions to be created for the discharge of liabilities arising from life insurance contracts that include a right to a share in profits, insurance undertakings may apply a method which takes into account the bonuses that will be paid in the future, their estimated amount, and the current manner of bonus allocation.

(4) The method of calculating the amount of technical provisions for life insurance must not be changed on the grounds of changes in the data used for their calculation and the method applied must make it possible to specify unambiguously and provably the manner of allocating the profits throughout the lifetime of each insurance contract.

(5) Insurance undertakings shall enable any person to get acquainted with the principles and methods employed in the calculation of technical provisions for life assurance.

Section 173

Technical provisions for unearned premiums

(1) Technical provisions for unearned insurance premiums shall be established in both life and non-life insurance, except for single-premium life insurance, from that part of the written premiums which relates to future accounting periods. Their amount shall be determined as the sum of technical provisions calculated on the basis of individual insurance contracts.

(2) If technical provisions for unearned premiums cannot be determined as the sum of technical provisions calculated on the basis of individual insurance contracts, their amount shall be determined using an actuarial method.

(3) Technical provisions for unearned premiums shall include provisions for existing risks. Provisions for existing risks shall be established where the written premiums which relate to future accounting periods are insufficient to cover fully the insurance benefits or claims paid for insurance events and the expenses that will incur in future periods under valid insurance contracts.

Section 174

Technical provisions for insurance benefits or claims paid

(1) Technical provisions for insurance benefits or claims paid shall be established in life insurance and non-life insurance; their amount shall be determined as an estimate of the total amount of benefits or claims payable for insurance events occurring by the end of the current accounting period, reduced by the amount of benefits or claims already paid for these insurance events. Such provisions shall be created for the coverage of benefits or claims paid for insurance events:

- (a) reported but not yet settled;
- (b) occurred but not reported in the current accounting period.

(2) The amount of technical provisions for insurance benefits or claims paid shall be determined as the sum of technical provisions created for benefits paid for individual life insurance events or for claims paid for individual non-life insurance events. Where the amount of technical provisions for insurance benefits or claims paid cannot be determined in this manner, actuarial methods shall be applied.

(3) Technical provisions for life insurance benefits paid or for non-life insurance claims paid shall include all the expenses that are expected to incur in connection with the settlement for insurance events.

(4) The amount of technical provisions for insurance benefits or claims paid for life or non-life insurance events that occur within the current accounting period, but are not reported to the insurance undertaking, shall be determined using an actuarial method.

(5) If, in the individual classes of life insurance or non-life insurance, benefits or claims are paid in the form of annuity, actuarial methods shall be used to establish technical provisions for such insurance benefits or claims paid.

Technical provisions for insurance premiums and premium discounts

Technical provisions for insurance premiums and premium discounts in life and non-life insurance shall be established in accordance with the individual insurance contracts, for the provision of insurance premiums and premium discounts. The amount of technical provisions for premiums and premium discounts shall be determined as the sum of technical provisions calculated on the basis of individual insurance contracts.

Section 176

Technical provisions for life insurance

(1) Technical provisions for life insurance shall be the sum of technical provisions established on the basis of individual life and non-life insurance contracts, using the provision calculation technique devised for life insurance, and shall represent the value of future insurance liabilities calculated using actuarial methods, including shares in profits or shares in the surplus of premiums and expenses related to insurance administration, but excluding the value of future premiums.

(2) In the calculation of technical provisions, Zillmerisation shall be allowed up to the level of the acquisition costs that are included in the life insurance premium. 'Zillmerisation' means the gradual amortisation of the acquisition costs related to life insurance during the payment of premiums. In the calculation of technical provisions, the same assumptions and technical interest rates shall be used as in the calculation of the premium rates.

(3) Where the value of technical provisions is negative, it shall be replaced with a zero.

(4) Národná banka Slovenska shall stipulate the maximum value of the technical interest rate in a decree published in the Collection of Laws.

(5) The maximum value of the technical interest rate shall not apply to single-premium life insurance products, where the policy period is no longer than five years.

(6) The total guaranteed yield agreed in an insurance contract must not exceed the actual yield achieved in the previous calendar year from the investment of technical provisions, reduced by the average deduction and calculated in a manner approved by the actuary.

Section 177

Technical provisions for the coverage of risks arising from investments made on behalf of the insured

(1) Technical provisions for the coverage of risks arising from the investment of financial resources on behalf of the insured shall be established in life insurance, if the economic risk of fluctuation in the yields or growth in the invested resources is carried exclusively by the person who has signed an insurance contract with the insurance undertaking. Such technical provisions shall be determined as the current value of the financial resources invested on behalf of the persons insured under life insurance contracts, in accordance with those insurance contracts.

(2) Additional technical provisions created for the coverage of administrative costs, death risk or other risks shall constitute part of the technical provisions for life insurance in accordance with Section 176.

Section 178

(1) Insurance undertakings and the Slovak Insurers' Bureau may invest the financial resources they hold as technical provisions in the following categories of assets:

The investment limits for technical provisions shall be set by Národná banka Slovenska in a decree published in the Collection of Laws.

(3) The method of determining the values of securities and real properties in which technical provisions are to be invested under paragraph 1 shall be stipulated by Národná banka Slovenska in a decree published in the Collection of Laws.

(6) All assets, in particular those covering the technical provisions, the minimum capital requirement and the solvency capital requirement, shall be invested in such a manner as to ensure the security, quality, liquidity and profitability of the insurance portfolio as a whole. The localisation of those assets shall be such as to ensure their availability.

(7) Assets held to cover the technical provisions shall also be invested in a manner appropriate to the nature and duration of the insurance and reinsurance liabilities. Those assets shall be invested in the best interest of all policyholders and beneficiaries taking into account any disclosed contract objective.

(8) In the case of a conflict of interests, insurance undertakings or the persons who manage their asset portfolio shall ensure that the investment is made in the best interest of policyholders and beneficiaries.

(9) Where the benefits provided under a life insurance contract are directly linked to the value of mutual fund shares/units, the value of securities of foreign collective investment undertakings, the value of transferrable securities, or to the value of assets managed in the insurance undertaking's internal fund, usually divided into units, the technical provisions in respect of those benefits must be represented as closely as possible either by those units or, in the case where units are not established, by those assets. For the purposes of this Act, 'internal fund of an insurance undertaking' means the undertaking's asset portfolio earmarked for the coverage of life insurance obligations for a certain group of contracts.

(10) Where the benefits provided under a life insurance contract are directly linked to a share index or some other reference value other than those referred to in paragraph 9, the technical provisions in respect of those benefits must be represented as closely as possible either by the units deemed to represent the reference value or, in the case where units are not established, by assets of appropriate security and marketability which correspond as closely as possible with those on which the particular reference value is based.

(11) Where the benefits referred to in paragraphs 9 and 10 include financial guarantees or other guaranteed benefits, the assets held to cover the corresponding additional technical provisions are subject to paragraph 12.

(12) With respect to assets other than those covered by paragraphs 9 and 10, the following principles apply:

- (a) the use of derivative instruments shall be possible insofar as they contribute to a reduction of risks or facilitate efficient portfolio management;
- (b) assets shall be properly diversified in such a way as to avoid excessive reliance on any particular asset, issuer or group of undertakings, or geographical area and excessive risk concentration in the portfolio as a whole;
- (c) investments in assets issued by the same issuer, or by issuers belonging to the same group, shall not expose the insurance or reinsurance undertaking to excessive risk concentration.

(13) Insurance undertakings shall invest the funds they hold as technical provisions in matching assets in an amount accounting for at least 80% of their liabilities in the given currency. This shall not apply where:

- (a) the assets in this currency do not exceed 7% of the value of assets in other currencies; or
- (b) liabilities are payable in a currency other than the currency of another Member State and, under the law of the State in the currency of which the technical provisions are to be invested, investment in this currency or dealing in this currency is limited, or if, for other reasons, this currency is not suitable for the investment of funds held as technical reserves.

(14) Where a liability is to be covered by assets which are expressed in the currency of any of the Member States, this obligation shall be deemed to have been met if the assets used are expressed in EUR.

(15) The provisions of paragraphs 1 to 3, 13 and 14 shall not apply to assets that are earmarked for the coverage of liabilities arising from insurance contracts pursuant to paragraphs 9 and 10. This shall not apply to the cases referred to in paragraphs 9 and 10 where the insurance benefit includes a guaranteed yield or any other guaranteed benefit.

Solvency of an insurance undertaking

Section 179

(1) In regard to insurance undertakings, solvency shall be understood to mean the capacity of an undertaking to make due and timely payments to discharge liabilities arising from insurance or reinsurance business.

(2) In order to be able to discharge liabilities arising from insurance or reinsurance business fully and in due time, insurance undertakings shall maintain a sufficient amount of eligible basic own funds to meet the solvency capital requirement.

(3) Solvency capital requirement shall be understood to mean the value of eligible basic own funds that an insurance undertaking is required to maintain; it is determined according to the scope of insurance or reinsurance business conducted by the undertaking. (7) Loans may be included in the amount of eligible basic own funds, where the following conditions are fulfilled:

- (a) binding agreements exist under which, in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of the undertaking, the loans are not to be repaid until all the other creditors have been satisfied;
- (b) the loans have actually been provided;
- (c) for loans with a fixed maturity, the original maturity must be at least five years, while no later than one year before the repayment date, the insurance undertaking must submit to Národná banka Slovenska for approval a plan on the basis of which the undertaking will prove that, after the loans are repaid, its eligible basic own funds will be at least at the level of the solvency capital requirement, unless the extent to which the loans may rank as a component of the eligible basic own funds is reduced by at least 20% per year over the last five years before the repayment date;
- (d) the loans the maturity of which is not fixed are repayable only subject to five years' notice, unless the loans are no longer considered as a component of the eligible basic own funds or unless the prior consent of Národná banka Slovenska is specifically required for early loan repayment;
- (e) the loan agreements do not include any clause providing that in specified circumstances, other than the liquidation of the undertaking or without the prior consent of Národná banka Slovenska, the loans will become repayable before the agreed repayment dates;
- (f) the loan agreement may be amended only with the prior consent of Národná banka Slovenska.

(8) At the written request of an insurance undertaking, Národná banka Slovenska may grant prior approval for early loan repayment under paragraph 7 if there is no risk that the undertaking's eligible basic own funds may fall below the solvency capital requirement.

(9) Securities may be included in the available solvency margin under paragraph 6, where the following conditions are fulfilled:

- (a) binding agreements exist under which, in the event of the bankruptcy or liquidation of the undertaking, the loans are not to be repaid until all the other creditors have been satisfied;

- (d) the contract or the issuing conditions must provide for the loss-absorption capacity of the insurance undertaking;
- (e) the securities have been paid-up in full.

(10) Upon application in writing by the insurance undertaking concerned and with the prior approval of Národná banka Slovenska, the eligible basic own funds may also comprise:

(3) The annual effective interest rate shall be equal to the discount rate at which the current value of the portfolio of eligible insurance and reinsurance liabilities equals the value of best estimate of the portfolio of eligible insurance and reinsurance liabilities where the relevant risk-free interest rate term structure is used under Section 38(2).

(4) The ratio referred to in paragraph 2 will decrease linearly at the end of each year, from 100% as at 1 January 2016 to 0% as at 1 January 2032.

In such case, the insurance or reinsurance undertaking shall take the necessary measures to meet the solvency capital requirement by the end of the transitional period.

(2) Insurance and reinsurance undertakings shall submit to Národná banka Slovenska a plan for their recovery within two months of the date when they realise that, without applying the transitional provisions of Section 203 or 204, they would not comply with the solvency capital requirement.
